RUSSIA AGREES TO SECOND TRY AT REICH PACT

Big 4 Will Meet Nov. 25 in London; British Flay New Red Group.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 7—The British foreign office announced today Russia had agreed to a Big Four foreign ministers council Nov. 25 for a second attempt to write a German peace treaty, which may provide a crucial test of world cooperation.

A spokesman for the foreign office at the same time declared the manifesto issued by Communists of nine European nations, calling on their supporters to resist "United States and British imperialism," represented "a clear deterioration of the international situation."

The spokesman said the creation of what the Communists called an information bureau in the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade was "the official resuscitation of the Comintern," the Communist agency devoted in the past to world revolution.

The manifesto was sharply critical of Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. The foreign office comment came only after 24 hours of study.

Denies New Comintern

The Italian Communist Leader Luigi Longo denied in Rome that the information bureau constituted a Comintern—an abbreviation for Communist International which the Russians asserted was disbanded in May of 1943, when German armies were deep in Russia, and U. S. lease-lend supplies were flowing freely into the Soviet Union.

Longo said the bureau stemmed from a growing danger of war.

Diplomatic circles speculated on how much, if any, the formation of the bureau might complicate or ease the atmosphere of the November foreign ministers' conference. United States and French acceptances previously had been received. All four powers agreed likewise to a meeting in London Nov. 6 of deputies of the foreign ministers to lay groundwork for the main conference. The Nov. 25 date was a postponement from the original plan to meet early in November. It avoids possible conflicts with the United Nations meeting in New York.

A previous meeting in Moscow in March on the German and Austrian peace treaties made no progress. Peace has been restored to all nations except those and Japan.

See Beginning of Strife

The newspapers of western Europe, aside from those of the extreme left, gravely interpreted in bold banner lines and acrimonious editorials the Communist decision to form the coordinated "information bureau" as the beginning of intensified ideological warfare.

Norwegian newspapers from the conservatives to the official mouthpiece of the Labor government stressed that the Communist move had widened the cleft between the west and the east.

The Communists have taken considerable pains to deny that the new organization formed in Poland last month is a revival of the Comintern, which was ordered out of business by Prime Minister Stalin in 1943.

A British foreign office spokesman, addressing a news conference today, said the meeting in Poland at which representatives of nine European Communist parties were present had "a highly official looking character."

He commented particularly on the presence of A. A. Zhdanov, a member of the Soviet politburo.

No Protest Seen

In reply to a question, the spokesman said he knew of no British intention to protest to the governments of the nine countries represented against the attacks leveled at Prime Minister Atlee and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin in the manifesto of the meeting, made public Sunday.

The European parties and personages aligned behind the new Communist international organization concentrated their heaviest propaganda fire today on the United States.

In speeches, statements and declarations they denounced the United States as imperialistic, monopolistic, anti-democratic, and aggressive; they accused America of threatening war and of opposing the political and economic freedom and independence of nations.

Speech Is Typical

Typical was a speech at Sofia by Vulko Chervenkov, who signed the Poland declaration—announcing that Communists of nine nations had banded together—on behalf of Bulgaria's Communists. He told the 38th congress of Bulgarian Socialists last night that forces "headed by North American imperialists" are "spreading the flames of a new world fire."

Rush To Register As Deadline Falls

Almost a thousand Marionites visited the board of elections yesterday on the last day for voter registration and transfer in Marion before the November election.

Mrs. Nora Fetter, deputy clerk of the board, reported that 510 persons registered, 236 transfered, 24 picked up absentee ballots, and more than 200 came in to check up on their voting status.

Total number of qualified voters in Marion has not as yet been tabulated, Mrs. Fetter said. The figure will be determined in about a week.

Absentee voting will continue until Oct. 30. Voters who expect to be away from their precincts on election day Nov. 4 should pick up absentee ballots at the board of elections in the Marion Federal Savings and Loan Co. building.

BURNS ARE FATAL TO TRUCK DRIVER

Man Hurt in Wyandot County Dies in Bucyrus Hospital.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 7—Leonard J. Mauser, truck driver of Bedford, Ohio, critically burned in a collision east of here yesterday, died at Bucyrus hospital at 10 p. m. yesterday.

The 26-year old truck driver suffered third degree burns over his entire body when he was thrown from his cab into a flaming pool of gasoline after his steel-laden tractor trailer crashed into a bridge on U. S. route 30-N about seven and a half miles east of Upper Sandusky at 9 a. m. yesterday. He was rushed to the Bucyrus hospital after the accident.

According to the state highway patrol and the Wyandot county sheriff's office, Mauser's truck crashed into the abutment when he was attempting to pass another tractor trailer also traveling west. The driver of the other truck, Dudley Hall of Youngstown, escaped injury.

GAS INDUSTRY TOLD TO SET OWN CURBS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7—Management of the $2,500,000,000 natural gas industry must impose "sensible restrictions" at the distribution level to meet a prospective and severe curtailment of gas supplies in many areas this winter, the federal power commission chairman told the American Gas association convention today.

Addressing some 4,000 delegates at the 29th annual AGA meeting, Nelson Lee Smith, FPC chairman, called for an immediate "curb on the expansion of market demands, at least until transmission capacity has a chance to catch up."

"This is something which management should initiate and for which it should assume responsibility," he continued. "Sensible restrictions must be imposed at the distribution level and fully supported by local authority.

"There is need for full cooperation within the industry, between the pipe-line companies and their customers, coordinated with suitable state regulatory action."

Although transportation facilities have been enlarged as rapidly as post-war material shortages would permit, Smith declared, "the prospect of severe curtailments in many areas during cold periods in the coming winter is a serious one."

LABOR LAW STUDIED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—Chairman Ball (R-Minn.), called a closed door meeting of the senate-house labor relations committee today to plan a study of how employers and workers are getting along under the Taft-Hartley act.

TWO SENATORS DEBATE PRICES

"Monopoly To Blame," Says O'Mahoney; "Democrats," Says Taft.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) blamed monopolies for present high prices while his opponent in a radio debate last night, Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), blamed "the policies of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations."

O'Mahoney spoke from Denver and Taft from Cincinnati over the Mutual Broadcasting system.

"Congress gave the President power to limit exports, but by failing to exercise his power he has helped prices to climb higher," Taft declared.

"Furthermore, our government in buying for export has bought at the most inopportune times with the most blatant publicity."

Blames High Income

Taft, giving high income as another reason for high prices, said "the administration insisted on a general wage increase pattern, adopting the extraordinary theory proclaimed by Henry Wallace's department of commerce experts and CIO that you could have a universal wage increase of 20 per cent without increasing prices."

"A Democratic congress passed the OPA renewal bill in 1946," Taft said. "President Truman vetoed it."

O'Mahoney said that President Truman vetoed the first OPA extension bill because of an amendment which he said Taft recently had referred to as "the simple provision that increased costs must be reflected in increased prices."

"Very Complicated"

"I have this 'simple provision' before me," O'Mahoney said. "It is the famous cost-plus-a-profit Taft amendment. It would take five minutes to read it and five hours to explain it, but it wrecked price control because it was an attempt to make the government guarantee a profit to manufacturers and processors. * * *

"The manufacturers and processors, in whose interests Senator Taft drew this price raising formula, are now reaping the profits he was so anxious they receive. The New York stock exchange tells us that the food processors whose stock is there listed had a next income during the first six months of 1947 than 21 per cent greater than their net income in the first six months of 1946."

"ROBOT" PLANE BEGINS FLIGHT BACK TO U.S.

"Mechanical Brain" To Pilot Army Craft on Return Ocean Crossing.

By The Associated Press

LYNEHAM, Eng., Oct. 7 — Guided only by the "mechanical brain" which piloted it to a safe landing in England two weeks ago, a Skymaster plane of the U. S. Army Air Force droned its way westward across the Atlantic today on the return leg of a history-making flight.

The robot plane, which took off from the Royal Air Force field here at 6:05 a. m. GMT (1:05 a. m. EST), was expected to arrive at Stephenfille, Newfoundland, at about 4 or 5 p. m. eastern standard time if the weather remains good.

Aboard the craft were Col. James M. Gillespie and a crew of 10, but he declared that—unless something went wrong—no human hands would touch the controls until the automatic pilot brings the ship in for a landing at Stephenville.

To Contact Ship

En route to Newfoundland, the big Skymaster is expected to make contact with a U. S. "marker" ship stationed in mid-Atlantic to give it a position check.

The experimental plane, loaded with 3,500 gallons of gasoline, made a perfect takeoff for the homeward flight after Gillespie had thrown the switch which placed the robot pilot in control.

Unaided by her crew, the plane took the air smoothly after traveling about halfway down the long runway and automatically retracted her landing gear when 50 feet off the ground.

Has No Further Order

Gillespie said that he had no orders specifying the plane's itinerary following his arrival in Stephenville, but it was possible it might continue on to its home base at Wilmington, O.

The robot plane has been in England since Sept. 22, when it

MANSFIELD TELLER GIVEN PRISON TERM

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7—Albert Arnold, 46-year-old former teller at the Richland Trust Co., Mansfield, today was convicted of embezzling more than $1,000 of the bank's funds by Federal Judge Paul Jones, who sentenced him to 15 months in federal penitentiary.

The sentence was pronounced a few minutes after the judge returned his verdict, Arnold having waived a jury trial. The judge declared it was "a clear case of embezzlement." The penitentiary in which Arnold will serve his term will be designated later.

The principal prosecution witnesses had testified that Arnold's accounts were short more than $8,000 before he was drafted into the Army in 1942.

Defense Counsel Henry Lavine presented no witnesses, but told the court before sentence was passed that the defendant always had demonstrated an exemplary character. The defense also referred to letters received from Arnold's commanding officer at Fort Bliss, Tex., saying he had been a "good soldier" and that his work was well done.

The defense asserted that full restitution of the embezzled funds was in the process of being made.

Lavine declared in his summation, before the verdict, that the prosecution had failed to show criminal intent.

The defendant declined comment on the verdict, and his attorney gave no immediate indication of an appeal.

The judge said "it was a clever-

First "Meatless" Day Lacks Full Compliance

Marion Will Go Along With Truman's "Save Food" Program

Marion will string along with the rest of the nation in observance of President Truman's food conservation program. A spot check of local restaurants, hotels, poultry and meat markets indicated today that Marion establishments "will be glad to cooperate."

Hotel Harding is in the same boat as other hotels and restaurants throughout the nation, according to manager Virgil F. Dye. Today's menus were prepared in advance and meat stocks on hand were ordered before the President's announcement, so "meatless Tuesday" will not be observed at the Harding today. The hotel will, however, "gladly cooperate in the conservation of food program and will abide by whatever decision the Hotel Association makes in the matter," Mr. Dye reported.

At the Midway restaurant in East Center street patrons this noon found the following notice at the top of the menu: "Due to short notice we are unable to comply with the government food conservation program today as our menu was already planned and meat purchased."

At Turoff's a similar situation existed but willingness to go along with the program was indicated by the management. The general trend today appeared to be that no definite policy has been set up as yet on a citywide basis.

Food Purchases Up

Meanwhile retail food purchases continue to boom in local food markets. At Underwood's poultry market in North Prospect street, Monday retail sales were "doubled," according to George Underwood. Usually a slow day, Monday business was reported to be the best in months, Mr. Underwood said.

Poultry this summer has been relatively cheap and plentiful, he said. No plans have been made to curtail sales and until he has been advised otherwise poultry will be available as usual. Poultry dealers have not been asked to cut down stocks, he added.

At the Chapman poultry market, Monday's business was normal, it was reported, with no unusual demand for poultry by Marion housewives. An increased demand for poultry was not anticipated despite meatless and poultryless days which critics of the program have said will result in an increased demand. It was pointed out that October and November are slow months in retail poultry trade. "We will gladly cooperate with whatever program is advocated," Mr. Chapman said.

Sales Increase

At one of the larger local food stores it was reported that total volume of sales hit a new high last week at that store with meat purchases as well as groceries showing an increase.

County Agricultural Extension Agent Arthur H. Smith has not as yet received notice of the food conservation program announced today by the Ohio State University College of Agriculture, it was reported at his office. However, steps advocated to be taken by county agents and home demonstration agents under the program will undoubtedly be followed here, it was said.

GRAIN MARTS HIKE MARGIN

Comply with Truman Request as Nation's First Meatless Tuesday Dawns.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—A hike in margins on the nation's big grain exchanges at the insistence of the government today ushered in the first of President Truman's "meatless Tuesdays" to save food for Europe.

The markets at Chicago, Kansas City and Minneapolis doubled the cash down payments on deals for future delivery, as demanded by the President to curb what he called "gamblers in grain."

As the President's "waste less" food program moved out of the planning stage and into operation there were these developments:

1. The National Restaurant association pledged its members to serve no meat on Tuesdays and no poultry or eggs on Thursday.

2. Representatives of the distilling industry gathered for a meeting here tomorrow to discuss the President's request for a 60-day shutdown.

3. The agriculture department, seeking to head off a "meat famine" a year from now, talked of asking farmers to plan for maximum hog production and gamble that big crops next season will relieve the feed grain shortage.

4. The United Nations food and agriculture organization predicted that more people will die of hunger next year than were killed in any year of the war, and that present shortages will continue beyond the 1948 harvests.

5. The agriculture department disclosed it stepped up wheat purchases for export to 23,063,674 bushels last week compared with 9,089,880 bushels the week before.

The big grain markets, which have contended all along that grain exports and not speculation caused high prices, fixed their new margins at 33 1/3 per cent.

The increased down payment was placed in force with the opening of trading this morning. Previous transactions are not affected.

The White House went on the no-meat-for-Tuesday standard by substituting cheese souffle for the President's luncheon today and broiled salmon steak for dinner. The idea is to conserve on meat and thus, eventually, on grain fed to animals.

Meanwhile, Rep. Gatherings (D-Ark) told newsmen last night after a five-week tour of Europe that in his opinion "the need for food has been over-emphasized and over-published."

Lima Baseball Club Cuts Tie with Chisox

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., Oct. 7—Owner Ray Laibe of the Lima Terriers announced today that his Ohio State league club had severed relations with the Chicago White Sox for 1948, and that he would seek a new major league affiliation at the big league meetings in Florida in December.

With the White Sox, who backed the Terriers during the season just closed, out of the Lima picture, two of the Ohio State league clubs will be seeking new affiliations for 1948. The Newark club recently withdrew as a farm of the St. Louis Browns.

"BRAIN-BUSTER." At Cambridge, England, Dr. H. V. Wilkes examines mercury "control" tubes of the "Edsac mechanical brain," an electronic calculator which he claims may make sensational discoveries in engineering, astronomy and atomic physics.

TIME NEEDED TO WORK PLAN

Hotels, Restaurants Explain Menus for Today Were Already Set Up.

By The Associated Press

The nation observed its first "meatless Tuesday" today but wide compliance with President Truman's conservation request by restaurants and hotels was not expected before next Tuesday.

Many hotel and restaurant officials explained that their menus were made up and their meat orders placed with wholesalers too far ahead for full compliance today with the President's meatless Tuesday request which was not made until last Sunday night.

The White House went on the "meatless Tuesday" menu with cheese souffle for the President's luncheon and broiled salmon steak for dinner.

In the nation's big markets, there was both good and bad news for the consumer today.

Wheat, Corn Advances

Wheat and corn futures prices on the Chicago board of trade advanced rather sharply, taking in stride the big overnight advance in requirements for margins, or down payments, on all transactions.

During early trading wheat climbed 3 to 5 cents a bushel, with the December contract selling at $2.84¾. Corn was up to 2 to 4 cents, December $2.25.

Traders said the new margin requirements, now placed at 33⅓ per cent of the price of the grain and substantially above the rates which have been in effect, apparently had no effect on early trading. The increased margins were requested by the department of agriculture recently and by President Truman in his radio speech Sunday night.

Bread Price Jumps

In Detroit, bread prices were raised a cent a loaf today, and there were indications other cities also would get a bread price boost.

However, mills serving the New York metropolitan area announced reductions of 10 to 40 cents a hundred pounds in wheat flour prices and 40 to 55 cents in rye flour following sharply lower cash wheat and rye markets Saturday and again yesterday.

Live hogs prices varied today at different markets. At Chicago, hog trade was slow and prices were about 50 cents lower in early trade, with the top price at $29.05 a hundred pounds. This followed a Chicago price advance yesterday which boosted the average price of hogs to a new peak of $29.01.

In the East St. Louis hogs were active and steady to 25 cents higher.

Butter prices continued to drop. In the New York wholesale market, grade AA fell 3 cents a pound to 71 cents, a drop of 7½ cents from a week ago yesterday.

OHIO PROBES "CUT" WHISKY

Department Says Numerous Bars Have Been Caught Watering Liquor.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 7—Information indicating that numerous Ohio drink spots have been watering their whisky has reached the state liquor department, it disclosed today in announcing a campaign to stop the practice.

Acting on complaints from the customers, three two-man squads of inspectors have been touring the state for a month, testing liquor on tavern shelves for diluting and contamination.

Floyd C. Moon, acting inspection chief, said he expected to have a full report on their findings within a week. Information so far, he said, indicates that numerous permit holders have been cutting good whisky with water to make it last longer in view of the high prices for the stuff.

Show Contamination

In addition, he said, the tests have shown contamination rang-

GRAND JURY REPORT ON SHAPPARD DUE

Clark and Williams Cases Also Considered.

The Marion county grand jury called back into session last Friday to consider the case of Ray A. Shappard, charged with the hammer slaying of Roxie Anne Green, also will consider the cases of John Williams, 36, charged with attempted extortion, and Paul Clark, charged with armed robbery. The grand jury is expected to report on the three cases late this afternoon.

Williams pleaded not guilty in municipal court in answer to an attempted extortion charge filed by Prosecutor James E. Reed, on Sept. 26. He is charged with communicating orally with Paul Clark asking the latter for $1,500 to keep Elm. (Williams) from testifying against Clark before the grand jury.

Clark, charged with the armed robbery and assault of Williams on July 31, pleaded not guilty and after his arrest was bound over to the grand jury on $2,000 bond.

Both men are out on bond.

Fourth Case of Polio Reported in Hardin Co.

O.S.U. Maps Way To Save Wheat In Food Drives

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 7—Ohio State university's college of agriculture gave its support to the national food conservation program today with a "save the wheat" campaign.

Dean L. L. Rummell announced last night formation of a seven-member committee to work with agricultural extension agents and home demonstration agents throughout the state in conserving food.

"Wheat is the first need of Europe, and it is the easiest food to ship," Rummell said. "Here in Ohio it is a major crop, 49 million bushels this year. It is the Buckeye state's great contribution to starving peoples abroad."

The college of agriculture committee outlined a four-point program to save wheat: (1) proper farm storage; (2) limited feeding of livestock and poultry; (3) eating less bread and wasting none, and (4) save all grains temporarily by limited sales to brewers and distillers.

At the same time, officials of Ohio hotel and restaurant groups began work on problems expected from efforts to cooperate with President Truman's food-saving program.

Robert H. Williams, executive vice president of the Ohio State restaurant association, announced that its directors would meet here tomorrow and work out a statewide policy. He said restaurants would do "everything they can" to cooperate.

Marion Co. Firms in "Employ the Physically Handicapped" Week Program Provide Job Training for Disabled Veterans

The 31 Marion county business and industrial concerns giving on-the-job training to 47 disabled World War II veterans are playing a leading role in local participation in National "Employ the Physically Handicapped" week, Oct. 5 to 11.

These concerns, 26 of which are located in the city of Marion, are training disabled veterans for a wide range of occupations, from barbers to furnace set-up men.

According to Harold H. Douthitt, director of industrial relations at the Marion Power Shovel company and chairman of the local "Employ the Physically Handicapped" committee, the disabled former servicemen receiving on-the-job training are showing "admirable progress."

In some specialized occupations, the disabled employe can give more satisfactory service than the physically normal person, Mr. Douthitt states. He explains that the very nature of the disability may enable the handicapped worker to give his undivided attention to a task requiring great concentration. An example is the inspection of small, intricate machine parts, which a partially or totally blind person can examine with unusual accuracy because of a highly-developed sense of touch.

Training in Many Fields

The 47 Marion county disabled veterans getting on-the-job training under the GI Bill of Rights are learning a wide variety of skills. Data of the Marion branch of the Veterans Administration give this occupational breakdown:

Barbers, auto mechanics, body repairmen, farm machinery set-up men, carpenters, appliance repairmen, furnace set-up men, pattern makers, machinists, electricians, greenhouse workers, furniture repairmen, city firemen, refrigeration mechanics, insurance salesmen, grocery wholesalers, office managers, draftsmen, tool and fixture designers, inspectors, structural layout men, welders, erectors and route sheet writers.

With seven on the payroll, the Marion Power Shovel company leads all Marion county establishments in the employment of disabled veterans under the on-the-job training program. The Ohio Public Service company is next in line with six followed by the Erie Railroad company with five.

Shovel Co. Program

Marion Power Shovel Co. took the lead among local concerns in promoting National "Employ the Physically Handicapped" week when this program was inaugurated approximately a year ago. The company's on-the-job training program for disabled and non-disabled veterans gained nation-wide recognition last year when it was adopted as a model system by the United States Employment Service. The Shovel Co. program includes 30 days of preliminary mechanical training at the Harding High school vocational shop and an effective system of screening applicants for various positions.

To date, 191 veterans have received or are receiving on-the-job training at the Shovel Co. Seventy-seven of these are still in training. As of Aug. 1, the total number of former servicemen in on-the-job training in Marion county was 258.

Under VA Supervision

The on-the-job training program for Marion county disabled veterans is planned and supervised by the Veterans Administration under Public Law 16 of

Forming of Red "Front" Called Declaration of Ideological War

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Well, now do the doubters finally understand that the Bolshevist world revolution for the establishment of Communism is really under way?

If not, let them study Moscow's announcement of the Red conference in Poland and the establishment of a headquarters in Yugoslavia for coordination of the Bolshevist drive against American "imperialism." Call that organization by any name you will, and you still have the Comintern—the Third International or general staff for world revolution—which Moscow in 1942 trumpeted had been abolished, thereby quieting the fears of a lot of ill-informed wishful thinkers abroad.

DewittMackenzie

The meeting in Poland was attended by representatives of the Communist parties of the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Italy and France. There you have the nations which either are communized and consequently are dominated by Russia or have strong Bolshevist parties. The new headquarters is being established in Belgrade, capital of Marshal Tito who breathes, eats and sleeps as Moscow directs.

2 Camps Defined

Andrei A. Zhdanov of Russia's powerful politburo presented the international situation as seen through Moscow's eyes. At the conclusion of the conference the delegates—inspired by Rhdanov's pronouncement—issued a joint statement which pointed out that two camps have been formed in the world, and then went on to define them thus:

"On the one side the imperialist and anti-democratic camp, which has for its essential aim the establishment of the world domination of American imperialism and the crushing of democracy, and on the other, anti-imperialist and democratic camp, whose essential aim consists in undermining imperialism, reinforcing democracy, and liquidating the remains of fascism.

"The struggle between these two camps—between the imperialist camp and the anti-imperialist camp—is developing under conditions of the continued accentuation of the general capitalistic crisis, the weakening of the forces of capitalism, and the strengthening of the forces of socialism and democracy."

That's talking turkey. There's no subterfuge. It's a declaration of ideological war to a finish—and that means a continuation of the strong-arm methods which Bolshevism has been exhibiting in eastern Europe.

The declaration called for full resistance to all manifestations of United States policy. European Communists were told not to underestimate their own strength or to overestimate the strength of the "imperialist camp." England of course is coupled with America in the Red charge of imperialistic aggression.

The old Comintern was established even before the Bolshevists had Russia firmly in their hands in 1917 during World War I. They hoped that in the chaos following the war they could precipitate a revolution that would run around the globe. They tried it in Hungary and other countries, but it fizzled out and Stalin shelved the program until Russia could be made strong industrially and militarily, and a more propitious moment arrived.

Stalin was among those who early foresaw World War II and the widespread disorder which was bound to follow. Actually the war was precipitated when the Bolshevist leader signed the non-aggression pact with Hitler, and the fuehrer unleached his mighty fighting machine on Poland.

So now the Bolshevists are picking up where they left off after the first global conflict. This time, however, they have had strength to enforce their will on neighboring war-torn countries, and thus are encouraged to regard the whole world as their oyster.

PUBLISHER RELEASED

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 7 — Grover Fleming 64, was released from jail yesterday after serving 90 days on a charge of publishing obscene literature. Common Pleas Judge Golden C Davis also suspended a $300 fine but ordered Fleming to pay $100 court costs The judge warned Fleming that he was on five-year probation on two counts of criminal libel

Firms That Lend More Than Price Of Auto Flayed

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7—Finance companies that lend more than the list price of an automobile are "not only encouraging the black market, but are becoming a party to it," Common Pleas Dismissing a contempt motion brought by the Sun Finance Co., in an effort to recover a mortgaged car, the jurist yesterday asserted the company had come to court with "unclean hands."

The action was brought against John and Helen Budniak who purchased a 1947 Plymouth sedan from Anthony Dottore for $1,600. Dottore, according to records, had paid $1,000 cash for the vehicle and signed a mortgage for $1,819

The Budniaks said Dottore, now held for grand jury action in connection with alleged car swindles, failed to give them a title to the car and that after he defaulted on payments, the finance company sought recovery of the vehicle

When the Budniaks declined to turn the car over to the sheriff, the contempt motion was entered

An official of the finance company, commenting on the judge's ruling said it was the practice of all lending institutions to make car loans on the market value rather than the list price

TWO MORE ACTIONS FILED IN SHERK CASE

Suits Outgrowth of Dispute Over Division of Funds.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, O., Oct. 7 — Two more suits growing out of disputes over money matters in the affairs of H. E. Sherk, former Bucyrus livestock dealer, have been filed in common pleas court here.

The two suits, asking judgments of $42,000, bring to a total of $70,000 the amounts sought in civil actions as a result of Sherk's operations. Sherk recently was released from Hardin county jail under bond of $5,000 He has been held there under an indictment charging him with passing questionable checks.

Named defendants with Sherk are the Farmers and Citizens bank and J. E. Faulkner The actions are the result of a controversy over the distribution of funds of the Sherk and Faulkner partnership

Other court actions making up the $70,000 total were filed last Friday by Indiana cattle dealers Named as defendants in these were Sherk, the Farmers and Citizens bank, Faulkner and E J Pfleiderer, a Bucyrus stockyard operator.

Mr. Pfleiderer yesterday declared a statement appearing in Monday night's Star saying he was associated with Sherk in business was wholly incorrect. Mr Pfleiderer operates a stockyard on route 4 south of Bucyrus and, he said has at no time been associated in business with Sherk.

Two Cars Collide

A collision at Prospect and Church streets at 10:47 a. m. yesterday between cars driven by Bernard B. Schlecht, 46, of 416 West Columbia street and Charles Collins, 75, of near Prospect resulted in damage to both vehicles, city police said. According to reports, Schlecht was driving east on Church street. Collins was westbound when he attempted to make a left turn at the intersection.

Cars Damaged

Minor damage resulted to cars driven by Doris Hutchinson, 24, of 449 Ballentine avenue and C. J. Hilty of 430 Summit street in an accident at 9:55 a. m. yesterday in the alley between Prospect and Main street, city police reported. Police said, the Hutchinson car was going east when Hilty opened the left door of his car and it was hit by the other automobile.

Parked Car Damaged

A Borden's Dairy truck driven by Virgil L. Hinamon, 22, of 211 South Grand avenue, sideswiped a car owned by Fred Cory Jr., while parked on South Grand avenue at 9:30 a. m. yesterday, according to city police. Hinamon told police the milk cases in the rear of the truck started to shift as he turned from East Center street and his attention was diverted momentarily.

First Soybeans Of Good Quality

Two Marion elevators and the Richwood Elevator reported today that the first loads of the new soybeans have been purchased.

All reports have stated the condition of the 1947 beans to be very good with a moisture content varying between 13½ and 14.1 per cent. One elevator reported a test weight of 56½ pounds per bushel.

The general quality of the beans already received is reported to be very good with no green or damaged beans in the load. According to reports, farmers have expressed concern over the condition of the crop due to the unfavorable weather conditions. Many have doubted if the crops were worth saving.

From the elevator reports on the purchased loads the early planted beans in both Marion and Union counties promise to be good in quality and yield.

U. S. Casts About for Method To Avoid 1948-49 Meat Dearth

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—The agriculture department is working on ways to keep the present grain emergency from creating a "meat famine" late next year and in 1949.

The plan as tentatively drawn calls upon farmers to produce large numbers of pigs next year in the gamble that bounteous crops will relieve the feed grain shortage.

The department is concerned over the possibility that the government's food conservation program, coupled with diminishing supplies and high prices of grain, may lead farmers to make a sharp reduction next year in the production of meat animals, particularly hogs.

At best, officials say, meat production next year will be down 5 to 10 per cent. In 1949 supplies could be reduced so sharply that, given a continued high consumer demand, there would be acute shortages.

Beef production is declining because the nation is slaughtering cattle faster than they can be produced. Lamb production is off sharply from wartime levels. Under these conditions a sharp increase in hog production next year would be needed to maintain a high level of meat production for 1949.

But farmers normally curtail hog production when feed grains are scarce and prices are high, as is the case now.

In reversing their normal practice, farmers would be taking no undue chances by producing fairly large pig crops next spring, officials said.

If next year's grain crops turned out to be large, farmers already would have the livestock to feed and hence to provide large supplies of pork during the fall and winter of 1948-49.

If, on the other hand, feed grain crops should turn out to be short again, farmers could market their hogs at light weights, of course, total pork supplies would be much smaller.

The department's tentative plans call for a 1948 spring pig crop goal of between 50,000,000 and 52,000,000 head, rather than the approximately 45,000,000 head which could normally be expected under present conditions. This year's spring crop totaled 53,200,000.

TRIAL OF OFFICER BY NAVY NEARS END

By The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 7 — The Navy court martial of Lt. (JG) Richard F. Gascoigne on charges of mistreating fellow Americans in a Japanese prison camp neared its close today with the prosecution scheduled to present its final argument.

Defense counsel, Marine Capt. William Daubney, used the majority of yesterday's session in offering his final argument. He told the court that all government witnesses, save one, were agreed that Gascoigne had not administered a "beating" to one of the American prisoners, but had engaged in a "fair fist fight" with the man after a quarrel.

The judge advocate prosecuting the case, Naval Lt. Herbert F. Hawkins, said he will offer a lengthy argument on behalf of the government.

The case is expected to go to the seven-man trial board Wednesday for deliberations.

DELAWARE, Oct. 7—Howard Morgan, 34, of Delaware, formerly of Norton, died in Jane M. Case hospital at 1:30 a. m. Sunday, 24 hours after he had swallowed strychnine at his home.

Morgan had told a physician that he had taken the strychnine and a finding of suicide was made by Dr. Wray Davies, coroner yesterday.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Morgan of Delaware, his mother, Mrs. R. M. Morgan of Waldo, two brothers, George of Norton and Joseph of Michigan, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Steel of Columbus and Mrs. Irene Strange of Fairport Harbor.

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon in the Devore funeral home.

Wage Raise Granted To Depot Employes

Col. D. Lee Hooper, commanding officer of the Marion Engineer Depot, announced today that new hourly wage rates representing increases of 3 to 29 cents per hour have been granted to approximately 300 depot employes.

The new wage schedule which became effective Oct. 4, is based upon a locality wage survey conducted in August by the war department, and represents the "going" rates of pay in this area.

"The wage increase does not affect the leave regulations now in efect which entitle employes to 26 days annual leave, 15 days sick leave and eight paid holidays each year," Col. Hooper said. He also explained that the Marion Engineer Depot is presently in need of laborers, boiler firemen, heavy equipment mechanics, processors, and assembler-banders.

Taft and Truman Food Plans Contrasted, Found Much Alike

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 — If you're a little puzzled at this point by some of the government's food-saving program, this writer is, too.

Several weeks ago Senator Taft, Ohio Republican, suggested we could save food for Europe if we'd "eat less."

About a week ago President Truman suggested we could save food if we'd waste less." He called for a voluntary food-saving program.

James Marlow

At the same time he created a citizens committee to work out a food-saving program with Charles Luckman, Boston businessman, as chairman.

Sunday night, in a radio address, Luckman asked us to "eat less" to save food for Europe.

He asked us to "eat less meat" —none—on Tuesdays—"eat less poultry and eggs"—none on Thursdays—and daily to save a slice of bread.

Does "waste less" mean the same as "eat less"? Charles Ross, Mr. Truman's secretary, seems unwilling to agree to that.

Asked about it, he said Mr. Truman originally emphasized that his voluntary food saving program is a "waste less" program rather than one of voluntary rationing and of eating less.

But if voluntarily doing without meat on Tuesdays and poultry and eggs on Thursday isn't voluntary rationing, what is it?

And now Senator Taft's fellow-Republican, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, says:

Mr. Truman's food-saving program is a "100 per cent" endorsement of Senator Taft's "eat less" proposal.

So at this point the food-saving program seems to be involved a bit in semantics—the meaning of words—and in politics, too.

Does Luckman want us to go without meat on Tuesdays and poultry and eggs on Thursday so more of all of them can be shipped to Europe?

No. The idea is to save grain. Grain is fed to cattle and poultry. The less meat and poultry we eat means, in the end, less grain to feed to them.

And the grain so saved can be shipped to Europe which needs it.

Galion Man Held On Assault Charge

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 7—Stanley Earl Fulton, 38, of near Galion, was slated for a hearing today in Mayor William Amann's court, for assault with intent to kill. He was apprehended at 9:15 a. m. Monday by Galion police after a weekend search which was aided by Mansfield police and Richland county authorities.

Victim of the alleged attack was George Thoman who was hit by Fulton with a mason's hammer during an argument at East street and Harding Way East. The argument and alleged attack took place about 2:30 p. m. Saturday, and Fulton was picked up on a Galion street Monday morning. He had mysteriously disappeared Saturday. Police report that Fulton has a penitentiary record.

Meanwhile, Jesse James Sapp, 59, of Lancaster, S. C., an employe of the Day and Zimmerman Co., was tried in Mayor William Amann's court Monday afternoon on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $5 and costs and given a 30-day jail sentence. The jail sentence was suspended when fine and costs were paid.

It's to your interest to know about this proposed feather-bedding!

For sheer feather-bedding, this mock work proposal takes the cake. But it is only one of 44 "rules" demands filed by the leaders of the operating unions. If all these demands were granted, they would cost the railroads an added BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR.

Increased Wages, Too

On top of these "rules" changes, the leaders of the operating unions have filed an additional demand for a wage increase of over 30 per cent. If granted, this would be an added cost to the railroads of $400,000,000 a year.

$468,000,000 To Non-Operating Employes

In addition to this, an Arbitration Board has just granted a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour to the million employes represented by the 17 non-operating unions. This will cost the railroads $468,000,000 a year.

Where Will The Money Come From?

Where will all the money come from to pay these increases? They total several times as much as the railroads made in 1946 or will make in 1947.

In July, the railroads filed an application for increased freight rates to close the gap which then existed between wage and material costs, and railroad revenues. Since then it has been necessary, because of further increases in wages and material costs, to supplement that petition and to ask for an additional freight rate increase. No other course is open.

Railroads Do Not Run For Employes Alone

Railroads are operated for the benefit of not one, but several groups—shippers, passengers, employes, stockholders, and the general public. The interest of all must be served—and that cannot be done unless the railroads can operate efficiently and economically, and unless they are allowed to earn sufficient revenue to provide the kind of transportation service this country MUST HAVE.

More Moral Suasion

WHEN prices began to rise, President Truman advocated a campaign of moral suasion to keep them down. Aside from getting some national publicity for Newburyport, Mass., the proposal accomplished nothing.

Now we are going to have a moral suasion campaign to waste less and eat less. We are going to have a 1947 streamlined adaptation of NRA without the legal teeth and with billboard advertising substituted for the wisecracks of "Ironpants" Hugh Johnson.

With prices what they are, it isn't likely there's a housewife in America who's knowingly wasting food. Without any moral suasion whatever she's shopping more shrewdly, not overcooking meat, finding new ways to use leftovers and saving wheat.

As for the poultryless, eggless and meatless days, some will observe them and some won't, according to their ideas of to what extent we are obligated to feed Europe. Those who observe the days soon will be asking themselves why they should stint when others aren't. Moral appeals aimed at the heart usually hit the stomach or the pocketbook and that's why they fail—because human beings are what they are.

The waste-less, eat-less campaign is noble in purpose but it is also Utopian, visionary and based on an unwillingness to face the facts of life.

Carelessness Is the Cause

WE ARE a people of wondrous ingenuity, yet our fire loss, like our accident toll, continues to rise, already approaching the half-billion-dollar mark, fire losses threaten to break all records this year, according to the National Board of Underwriters.

Through next Saturday the nation will observe national fire prevention week with inspections, classes and publicity about the annual fire toll. All of us, rural and urban dweller alike, have a better knowledge of fire prevention than ever before. Fire fighting methods have improved. Fireproof construction is increasing. Yearly the loss continues to grow. Carelessness is the one factor we haven't been able to control.

Until this human factor is overcome, fire will continue to take its tremendous toll. Our resources are much too precious to be allowed to go up in smoke. Let everyone ponder the message of this Fire Prevention week and look about him to see that no possible fire tragedy ever would be chargeable to him.

"Look! We're Red All Over"

THE buzz-buzz stirred up by Moscow's announcement that Communist party members from nine European countries met in Poland a month ago to coordinate their programs is the only conceivable reason for making the announcement at all. The idea was to get attention.

It's as if the Kremlin had rolled up a shade in a window and screamed to a lot of indifferent passersby, "Look! we're red all over."

Communist party committees go back to the middle of last century. Latest official committee was called the Third Internationale, and the Kremlin dissolved it to make Britons and Americans happier about their wartime alliance with Russia. Perhaps the Kremlin will name the new one the Fourth Internationale, which would be a climax to one of the greatest frauds in history.

The truth is that the Kremlin has no interest in or sympathy with the ideology of communism, which never got to first base anywhere in the world, including Russia. The rulers in the Kremlin call themselves Communists because they got there as a result of a revolution fomented by Communists. But they are counter-revolutionary strong-arm specialists in terrorism and despotism.

It suits their purpose to be known as Communists, however, because Karl Marx's theory of communism still appeals to large numbers of people who lack the talent to survive in a competitive world. Thus, Josef Stalin and his government invariably present themselves as charter members of the Hammer and Sickle, a fraud spotted long since by all the old-time Socialists. Stalin has no more interest in text-book communism than Pendergast has in text-book democracy. The new committee in Europe is bait for suckers.

The Kremlin is occupied right now with the expansion of Russian influence in western Europe. The real issue isn't ideological, but whether the United States can be kept from expanding its own influence in the same territory.

The Russians can't be blamed for trying, nor even for lying. About all they have to work with is the misplaced zeal of fuzzy-wuzzies who still think their hero Marx would have approved of Josef Stalin.

Why Russia Was Recognized

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Roosevelt's 1933 Relations with Soviet.

FROM time to time in these days of Soviet strain and stress, the question is raised about the wisdom of our recognition of the U.S.S.R. in 1933. In his most recent Collier's article, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., accurately tells part of the story. But there is more to it. It seems to me that this is a place for an exception to a general practice in this column of avoiding the pronoun "I." I have my diaries, too, and a good memory. So here is some history for the price of your newspaper and without the bother of selling it to a magazine.

My knowledge of Roosevelt's budding Russian policy goes back a year before Morgenthau's story opens—to the spring of 1932, before the nomination. At that time, I explored with Roosevelt all issues which might arise in the campaign. This was essential before any member of the so-called Brain Trust could be enlisted or any material gathered. The Russian question was duly considered. The decision was that while we agreed that recognition was desirable after Roosevelt assumed office the next year, it was an inappropriate subject to raise in the campaign.

Kept Out of Campaign

After the nomination and as the campaign got under way, some of the more impulsive members of our group wanted to bring the issue into the campaign. The question was threshed over at a meeting of the group with Roosevelt in his library at Hyde Park in August. The candidate was sympathetic to the idea of recognition, but vetoed bringing it into the campaign.

As we left the meeting, Adolph Berle met Roosevelt's mother, who was a conservative of conservatives. She asked what we had been talking about. Berle said mischievously, "About recognizing Russia." "If Franklin does that," said the elder Mrs Roosevelt vehemently, "I will break with him." Suffice it to add that Franklin did it, and in the glow of being the President's mother, Mrs. Roosevelt made no break.

I served only nominally as assistant secretary of state in the six months after March 4, 1933. Actually, and with Secretary Hull's full knowledge and consent, I served as Roosevelt's aid and assistant. As Morgenthau says I dealt directly with the president. Of course I did, because that was the explicit reason for my appointment. As Roosevelt's assistant, I dealt directly with the Russian question, because the state department was bitterly anti-Russia.

Since William Bullitt had been right about Russia in Wilson's day, I secured the appointment of him in the state department. That appointment, too, was, as Morgenthau says, resented in the state department. A casual series of contacts with Amtorg was established, in which Morgenthau participated. We found that Amtorg had always paid on the barrelhead for what it bought, which was not characteristic of other governments.

Meeting In London

In London in June, Bullitt brought Litvinov and me together privately. We did not discuss recognition, but Litvinov, with characteristic diplomatic double-dealing, told the press in Paris that he had seen me, and the inference was left that that recognition was imminent.

Recognition did come. It was granted for several reasons. It was in line with the earlier policy of our government, in which recognition was not approval, but a sign that a government was actual and stable. More than that, recognition provided us with a friendly power at the front gates of two prospective enemies—Germany and Japan. For the threats to western civilization then, as was later proved, were Germany and Japan. The decision to recognize was, as Morgenthau says, sound.

Here's One Tenant They Can't Evict

An Englishman is seeking a reduction in his tax assessment on the grounds that his property is haunted.

That's the first time, so far as I can determine, that anyone has claimed a ghost as a dependent.

Still, we have intangible assets. Why not invisible liabilities?

Of course, there is some question as to whether the presence of a ghost still detracts from a domicile's value, the housing shortage being what it is.

Living space being at such a premium, I mean, most people had much rather double up with a kindly spirit than their in-laws.

Who's going to complain about sharing his quarters with a ghost so long as it confines its chain-rattling to reasonable hours?

At least you wouldn't have to worry with it leaving rings around the bathtub.

The Niggardly Blood Donor

By JOSEPH ALSOP

PARIS, Oct. 7—The strange delusion, that the European economic and political crisis can be overcome by pinch-penny half measures, seems to be firmly fixed in what passes for the mind of political Washington. If a patient in his senses were dying for want of a blood transfusion, no doctor in his senses would say, "Yes, he can have a transfusion, but not a drop more than half a gill." Yet this is the system of President Truman's initial response to the anguished French and Italian requests for aid.

To be sure, the President has a certain excuse. In this case the United States is blood donor as well as doctor. The country is beginning to suffer cruel gas pains in the region of that troublesome organ, the congress. But the death of Europe will bring in its train disaster, utter, final and rapid, for us in the United States as well. And this is why one finds, among leading personalities here in Paris, American as well as French, a mood of mounting despair.

Mood Changes

The despair is all the deeper—the highest officials are all the more ready to confess with shattering frankness, "the end is in sight"—because the mood of today has abruptly replaced a mood of hope. In the convalescent ward which is postwar Europe, France was doing well until the present hemorrhage began.

Even now, one can still see the remaining signs of healthy recovery. In the purely economic domain, French production had been pushed upwards nearly to the 1938 level, and while their coal and raw materials last, the factories continue to pour out their goods.

In the domain of politics, the Communist effort had reached and passed its peak many months ago. By a fantastically phony propaganda, coupled with lavish financing, the Communists have continued to make slight gains among the peasants. Yet there has recently appeared, in their vital base of operations, the trades union movement, a strong and energetic grass-roots opposition composed of rank and file workers disgusted with the party dictatorship. If France's economic recovery is allowed to continue, there is reason to hope that the Communists can be driven from their control of the C. F. T. (French Labor Federation), their weapon of blackmail against every French government, within a year or so.

Harvest Is Failure

The cause of France's hemorrhage was mainly, of course, this year's cruelly bad harvest. The loss of the harvest, coupled with the collapse of Britain's sterling convertibility, has given a violent impetus to the post-war inflation. It is impossible to exaggerate the gravity of France's present situation.

In brief, shortage of gold and dollars forced the Bank of France a month ago to restrict imports to four essential categories: food grains, fats, petroleum products and coal. Thus no orders have been placed for a month for essential raw materials for French industry. Moreover, restrictions are now beginning even in the essential categories of imports, without which France quite literally cannot live. Some days ago, the so-called committee of six, meeting amid the lovely, slightly shabby 18th century splendors of the Hotel Matignon, took a decision of unimaginable gravity. France's petroleum stocks are so low that they can last only a couple of months. Nevertheless, the shrewd Monick, governor of the Bank of France, informed Premier Ramadier and the other members of the committee that it was impossible to place further contracts for petroleum imports without sacrificing elsewhere. And so it was decided to cancel 450,000 tons of forward coal contracts — which risks adding future strangulation to the present hemorrhage.

Promises Fall Short

In this situation President Truman has thus far promised France $100 million immediately and something like $300 million at the end of the December special session. France's minimum need, which must be met in full if the French economy is to continue to operate, is for over $100 million monthly until the Marshall plan can come into force, at least seven months from now.

Furthermore, the timing of the aid offered by President Truman will prevent the placing of any import contracts whatever, even for wheat, during November, December and probably part of January. This means that in the worst period of the winter France will be plunged into the most fearful unemployment. At the same time a heavy cut will have to be made in the near-starvation rations of the French man in the street. Inflation, disorganization and political extremism will then reign unchallenged.

Adopting half measures now, in short, is just another way of playing children's games with destiny. Furthermore, it is utterly unnecessary. The money can be found, without resort to congress, simply by unwinding one or two American bureaucrats from their constraining cocoons of red tape. Is the American future to be jeopardized solely to keep a few treasury and other officials in their favorite wrappings for the long winter hibernation which follows the long summer sleep?

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, Oct. 7, 1937.

Britain and France began a preliminary exchange of views with the United States on convocation of nine-power conference in an effort to curb the Sino-Japanese war, with the possibility that the conference would be held in Washington.

A four-run rally in the sixth inning coupled with two in the fifth and two more in the seventh gave the New York Yankees another 8 to 1 victory over the New York Giants in the second game of the World series at Yankee Stadium.

Mrs. Floyd Bennett of Medina was chosen to head the Ohio Branch of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons in the closing session of the 44th annual convention at the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Cutler A. McGrew of Delaware avenue entertained with a dinner complimenting Miss Ruth Harmon of Prospect, whose marriage to J. Robert Emery was to take place the following Sunday.

Miss Nellie Bain, Mrs. E. E. Glosser, Mr. H. A. Silverwood and Mrs. J. E. Oliphant were enrolled as members at a meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of Epworth M. E. church.

Fred L. Carhart of Franklin street was installed as grand marshal of the grand chapter, Royal Arch Mason, highest appointive office in the grand chapter, at the closing session of the annual convocation at Cleveland.

Frank T. Johnston, 60, of Bucyrus, vice president director of the First National bank in that city, died of a heart attack enroute to his home from up town.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Oct. 7, 1927.

The C., D. & M. Electric Co. started work on rebuilding the street track and right-of-way on North State street.

School bank deposits for the year mounted to $2,752 with the addition of $880 for the week just closed. Of this amount $746 came from the grade schools and $134 from the high school.

The Marion Baptist association, in the final session of its meeting at Trinity church, elected Rev. Earl L. Holliday, pastor of Emanuel Baptist church, as moderator for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wiant of East Center street returned from a 10 weeks' stay at Lake Katchawanooka, Canada.

Mrs. Amanada Warwick, 76, died suddenly at her home in Caledonia.

A daughter was born to Mr and Mrs. Geddis Harraman of Windsor street.

Members of the Art club entertained at tea in the home of the president, Mrs. E. H. Cowan of Girard avenue, complimenting Mrs. Henry R. Schaffner, who had recently moved to Canton, and Mrs. Charles W. McClain, who was to leave soon to live in Cleveland.

The New York Yankees won their third straight game against Pittsburgh in the World Series, 8 to 1. In the game, played at New York, Pennock pitched for New York and Meadows and Cvengos for Pittsburgh. Babe Ruth hit a home run.

The Presidential Campaign

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

ANY discussion of the 1948 election must revolve about the Republican party, as the Democrats will surely nominate President Harry Truman, Henry Wallace notwithstanding. In fact, every day the significance of Henry Wallace pales more and more as our relations with Russia increasingly deteriorate and the Russians insult and infuriate the American people. Henry rides the wrong horse. The danger to the Republicans is that Vishinsky will force the American people to elect Harry Truman as an answer to Soviet Russia.

Senator Robert A. Taft has gained in stature by his western trip. Americans like a courageous man who can take it like a sport. Whereas Tom Dewey is criticized for saying too little, Bob Taft is criticized for talking too much. But it is so obviously honest talk, so straight from the shoulder, so assertive of fundamental principle that it has gained him strength in unexpected places. Whether Taft comes out of it the Republican candidate or not, he has asserted Republican leadership and he has been accepted. As a matter of fact, his leadership in the party is now unchallenged and any Republican candidate for the presidency will have to meet that reality.

Eisenhower Moving In

General Eisenhower's boom grows. He has elbowed out Harold Stassen altogether and is moving in on the margins of the Dewey strength. While Dewey has a following that is surely his, he also could count on votes in the convention from delegates who, while not wholeheartedly supporting him, accepted his nomination as inevitable. For a time this gave Dewey the appearance almost of a sure thing. The emergency of Eisenhower as a candidate has given these marginal delegates something to think about and considerable elbow room.

On the other hand, party leaders generally are not too enthusiastic about Eisenhower. They feel they will be buying a pig in a poke. They know nothing about his philosophy of life. Some are now engaged in a most thorough fine-combing of his record to discover whether, in a campaign, Harry Truman and the Democratic national commitee could not explode a bomb that would destroy him. Taft's and Dewey's records have stood the scrutiny of years; Eisenhower has enjoyed the obscurity of a peacetime and the protectives of a wartime military officer. The feeling is general among professional politicians — such as matter in conventions—that it is impossible to appraise Eisenhower's chances until after he becomes a civilian in January.

Outlook for MacArthur

Meanwhile the fact that General MacArthur plans to return to the United States in April hangs like Damocles' sword over the politicians. No one can appraise the public receptivity of MacArthur. If he returns the beloved imperial pro-consul, whose march from San Francisco to Washington will be a triumphant festival, no one could possibly stop his nomination. If the country greets him simply as another general back from the wars, his return will not matter. Certainly Eisenhower's aspirations depend upon the public reception of MacArthur; both Taft and Dewey must take MacArthur into their calculations.

Meanwhile the Republican national committee approaches 1948 inadequately financed and not at all effectively organized. Money has not been forthcoming as expected. This is undoubtedly due to resistance to the New York, not to say, Wall Street affiliations of the collectors. Big Republican money is no longer in New York and the midwest and western sections of the party, which are rich and strong, resent New York assumptions of leadership and authority. The money-raising activities of the Republican party big givers tell me, must be revised or contributions will continue to be inadequate.

Congressmen Complain

Congressmen object to the lack of support and assistance from the Republican national committee and particularly to the deal whereby funds are collected by one agency and divided between national and local organizations. Some of the congressional candidates, up against the huge labor treasuries, fear that they may be left out in the cold. This is a matter that is actively being discussed during the current recess. Some congressmen will do their own money raising, by-passing the national committee and its collectors altogether. It is generally felt that the Republican party needs more leadership under 40; there are too many old men around.

The Terrors of Television

TELEVISION came in with a bang through the World Series. There were televisors everywhere, in homes, clubs, saloons, post offices and even on railroads and ships. All of which was wonderful. But it marks the beginning of the denydration of man's imagination.

The normal energy of mankind will go into decline because of it. Once again the button switch, and dial influence takes a lethal place. The accustomed routines and traditional habits of putting aside his zeal, his ticket worries, cowbells, his winning colors and his courage in the face of sore feet, sinks into a cosy chair and has a world series, a political convention, a Fourth of July celebration or a victory parade delivered as simply as the milk, groceries and mail.

No more hectic conversations about tickets, no study of portal numbers, no battle to keep mittens tara off the coatsleeves, no bunions, no lugging no popcorn and peanuts....The packaged-self and predigested festival does away with all that.

* * *

These televisions broadcasts are uncanny and exciting But with the game over—presto!—we are immediately back in a humdrum world, with no after glow, no high blood pressure, no laughter, no hot arguments, no discovery someone has your watch.

The general effect of the World Series television will be deep and lasting. It means the similar application of science and engineering wonders to all forms of amusement, including riots, barbecues and torchlight procession. We can get everything by just sticking on his posterior and turning a dial.

The human being of tomorrow will have legs that will have withered to a length of six or eight inches. He will be 90 per cent torso. And the outstanding feature of his face will be a pair of huge bug-eyes and four ears.

* * *

The whole pageant of life will be sprayed into his home by television. All the things that use to call for effort, gusto and a few grunts will become a matter of electrical impulses and a little box with a screen attached.

Reality will disappear. Man will witness the complete procession of human events and never see an actor in the flesh, hurry across the street from a ball park for a quick beer or denounce somebody for stepping on his corns.

The day of the fellow who could answer "Yes" to "Was you there, Charlie?" is over. And something is going out of life.

The emotional side of the journey from cradle to grave is to become canned, fabricated, sealed and delivered to you while you lie on a couch in your underclothes or lean against a bar. And we are sad.

* * *

You might as well have the first glimpse of tropical dawn from shipboard reach you by postcard, look at a rainbow in a magazine sausage ad or experience the magic of the first April shower through a hose. Fie on television. (But what's the best set and how can we get immediate delivery?)

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: The loafers in the store got all stirred up this afternoon resenting the pinkies who want to run this country to suit themselves. I got to thinking about this from a new angle.

The pinkies are like the common cold, which can't hurt us unless our resistance is low. Therefore, the sensible thing to do is keep our resistance high, if the idea is to keep the pinkies at arm's length—and, that's what I think the idea should be.

But I am getting sick of goofs thinking the way to do this is set up an idol called—you can take your pick—the American way, free enterprise, profit system, capitalism, or something similar, then worshipping the idol.

I am getting extra sick of these same goofs yelping dirty names at everybody who gags at worshipping idols—and you can take your pick of the dirty names. The commonest one is Communist, a name being applied to everything from the real article to patriots who believe the United States is still capable of improvement.

In other words, my dear relative, we'd better waste less steam in this country getting excited about reds, fellow travelers and so on and more steam getting excited about shortcomings to give the commies something to point at with scorn. I personally don't know of anyone who wants to do away with capitalism, free enterprise, the American way or anything of that kind; but I personally would be one of the first to suggest a few improvements, such as doing something about the boom-and-bust cycle that the Kremlin is depending on to put our country flat on its back again during the 1950's.

People with long memories will recall that in the early 30's it wasn't fashionable to be enthusiastic about our economic system because it was falling apart at the seams. People who can put two and two together and get the right answer also will recall that proposals for changing the system were a dime a dozen and a man running for president of the United States said at the time he didn't know what he'd do if he got the job but he sure would do something and under the circumstances anything would be an improvement.

Here is one American patriot that doesn't want that kind of nonsense to happen again in his lifetime. He'd prefer to make improvements on a stitch-in-time basis, to keep the country from falling into the hands of another generation of Mr. Fixits like the mush-heads that flocked to Washington in the 30's.

But just to hint that a stitch in time might be wise is enough to set the idol-worshippers to hollering indignantly these days, which is what I'm worried about. These guys not only don't have enough brains among them to make any improvements themselves, but they're going up to shout down everybody else. If that's the American way—if that's capitalism, free enterprise, or any of the rest of it—I'm Adolf Hitler and your Aunt Effie is Little Eva. It makes me want to grab an ax handle and beat some thick heads. Give my regards to the family. Tell the boy the frost is on those pumpkins he helped me grow last summer.

Iowa Dirt Farmer Appalled at European Plight

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

GARNER, Iowa, Oct. 7 — Big-boned Jack Dethmers, comfortably well-to-do after years of rugged work in the black rich soil of Iowa, went abroad to see how the farmers of other lands were faring.

He was one of 22 curious Iowa farmers who paid out $1,500 apiece for a month-long air trip to see European conditions first hand.

Hal Boyle

Dethmers has come back appalled at the hopelessness of Europe's economic situation.

"Seems as if we knew less when we got back than when we started," he said soberly.

"We'll have to feed them — the people over there. And we can't sell it to them because they're already bankrupt. We'll just have to give it to them.

"It's either that or turn them over to the Communists. The feeling is pretty strong over there already."

The six-foot farmer, who worked his own way up from hired hand, was considerably shocked at caste and class barriers in European lands which make it difficult for men to better their lot. Summing up his memories of Europe's distressed, he said:

"They can't understand why we were so lucky to have been born here and they so unlucky to have been born in Europe."

He told with a look of wonder on his face of hungry Germans searching potato fields that had already been harvested.

Dethmers said the English farmers generally were trying to deal honorably through regular trade channels, but that in France the farmers attempted to sell their entire crop on the black market. But the French have thrown in the towel compared to the English. The English say "We'll get along."

"Of the eight countries visited, he said, England was the only one in which money didn't count against the rationing rules.

Dethmers brought back a conviction that European farming methods are outmoded and will have to be changed before machinery can be used well.

COURSE IN HOME NURSING OFFERED

Red Cross To Provide Training in Care of Sick.

Women interested in learning the proper care of sick in the home will have an opportunity to take a course in home nursing under the guidance of trained leaders, it was announced today by the Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Plans for the course, which is available free of charge, were completed at a meeting of the Home Nursing committee of the local Red Cross chapter, Friday afternoon in the chapter office. Mrs. Frank M. Knapp is chairman of the committee.

The course will be made available not only to groups in the city but in the county also, Mrs Knapp states The course will be brief, and the lessons will be outlined to carry out simple instructions in nursing care of the sick in the homes

Since every home is exposed to illness of some kind, every homemaker should know simple nursing skills, the committee believes, and for this reason the chapter desires to spread the knowledge as widely as possible throughout its area

Clubs, groups or individuals organizations wishing to form classes are asked to contact Mrs Knapp or the local Red Cross office and an instructor will be available.

Serving with Mrs. Knapp as a committee are Mrs. J. C. Ackerman, co-chairman, Mrs. Urton Anderson, Mrs. J. R. Harmon, Miss Mary Faye McMillen, Mrs. A. Gail Smith, Miss Inez Kraner, Mrs. Edward T. Huber, Mrs. Carl Bechtle, Mrs. Ann Sedelmaier and Mrs. S. W. Kuhner.

A NUPTIAL high mass in St Mary Catholic church Monday morning solemnized the marriage of Miss Violet M. Shaw, daughter of Mrs Mary S. Shaw of 416 Mary street and the late Francis E. Shaw, and Cameron B Weyer. Rev William J. Spackerman, pastor, read the ceremony and was the celebrant of the mass For the ceremony read at 9 30 o'clock, the altar vases held bouquets of white gladiola.

A gown of turquois blue chiffon velvet with a matching tiara crown was worn by the bride The bodice was trimmed with tiny buttons in the back and the long skirt was gathered full at the waist. She carried a muff of the same material as her dress to which was pinned her bridal bouquet.

Miss Ruth Hagan of Toledo, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor and her only attendant. Her gown of American beauty chiffon velvet was fashioned similar to the bride's and caught to her matching muff was a colonial bouquet of white carnations

Frank Heckman served as best man for Mr. Weyer, who is the son of Mrs B. N. Brennan of Sandusky, and ushers were John Hagan of Toledo and Charles Long.

Following the ceremony there was a breakfast at Ringer's inn and later Mr. and Mrs. Weyer left on a wedding trip through the east. For traveling Mrs. Weyer wore a wine colored dress with matching accessories with a coat in a bob-o-link shade trimmed in white lynx. The bride is assistant cashier at the Fahey Banking Co and Mr. Weyer is employed with the Marion Power Shovel Co

PLANE

landed at Brize Norton, Oxfordshire, by automatic control after a pioneering 2,400 miles pilotless flight from Stephenville. Since then the craft has made demonstration flights for the RAF and because of the valuable instruments aboard has been kept under close guard at all times

The plane was brought to Lyneham—about 80 miles west of London—from Brize Norton last night because of the longer runways here. The crew was briefed in RAF flight headquarters, scanned weather reports and then ate a breakfast of cereal, baked beans, tomatoes, bacon and tea before taking off.

Expresses Confidence

Gillespie, whose home is in San Antonio, Texas, expressed confidence before his departure that the return trip would be as successful as the eastbound crossing.

"We profited a good deal on the flight over here," he said. "We were only 25 miles off the course when we picked up the signals from Brize Norton, and we hope to do even better this time."

On the takeoff the "mechanical brain"—which pre-selects the plane's speed, calculates the speed of head or tail winds and steers the ship—was set to guide the Skymaster to the "marker" ship in the Atlantic. From there it will go on to pick up a radio beam from Stephenville and follow it in to a landing.

If the robot brain stops "thinking," Capt. Thomas J. Welis of Orlando, Fla., will be ready to take over the controls and bring in the ship.

In addition to the original crew of seven which made the trip to England, the Skymaster is carrying the following on the return flight:

James L. Anast, civilian chief of the Auto flight branch of the U. S. Army's all weather flying division, of which Callespie is the chief; G. V. Johnson and Charles Sidney Franklin, civilian experts, and Wing Commander F. R Jeffs, RAF observer.

Mysterious Missiles Sighted Over Sweden

By The Associated Press

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 7 — The newspaper Aftonbladet declared mysterious cigar-shaped missiles were seen flying high over the city of Hudiksvall, in northern Sweden, at noon today.

The objects emitted a sound similar to a motor noise and streaks of fire from the tail, Aftonbladet said. They came from the north, it reported, and disappeared at a slow speed in the southwest.

(Reports of "ghost bombs" over southern Sweden developed during the summer of 1946. But official sources discounted them after investigation. Observers suggested a possibility that meteors were responsible for some of the reports).

Marion Couple Mark Golden Wedding Today

THE golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs J. Fred Dombaugh is being observed by the couple today at their home at 380 Mt. Vernon avenue. While no formal observance of the anniversary is being made, the celebrants have received greetings and remembrances from relatives and friends who recalled the wedding date.

Today's anniversary is unusual in that Mr. and Mrs. Dombaugh are the third couple in their family to celebrate a golden wedding anniversary. Mrs. Dombaugh's parents, the late Col. and Mrs. George B. Christian, not only celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary but lived to observe their fifty-ninth anniversary, and her brother, George B. Christian Jr. and Mrs. Christian, now of Washington, D. C., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on June 9, this year.

Mr. Dombaugh and his wife, who is the former Miss Mary Christian, were married in the First Presbyterian church, and were the second couple to repeat their vows in the edifice which had been completed only a short time previous. The ceremony was read by Rev. Welling Evan Thomas, pastor of the church.

Close personal friends of Mr. and Mrs Warren G. Harding for many years before they became President and First Lady, Mr and Mrs. Dombaugh have enriched that friendship through their residence at the Harding home and museum for the last 18 years, and where Mr. Dombaugh is director.

Today's celebrants are descendants of pioneer families in the community. Mr. Domaugh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dombaugh and is one of a family of nine children, all sons. His father served as clerk of courts at one time. Mrs. Dombaugh's father was a Civil war veteran and was active in the political life of Marion county, having served as deputy auditor and county surveyor shortly after his return from the war. Later he was editor of the Marion Mirror after which he became president of the Norris & Christian Stone and Lime Co. Mrs. Christian was Miss Lydia Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Morris, before her marriage on Oct 14, 1869, at the Morris home southeast of Green Camp.

George Christian Jr. who, with Mrs. Christian, has made his home in Washington for a number of years, spent his boyhood and early manhood here. When Warren G. Harding was elected U. S. senator and later became President, he accompanied him to the nation's capital as his secretary. Mrs. Christian was Miss Stella Farrar of Shelby before their marriage in St Paul's Episcopal church at Shelby.

...They sat in freshly pressed pants and new cravats of digni- fied pattern, waiting to be sworn in before the bar of the supreme tribunal: each had his sponsor along to inform the court that he was a smart fellow and well able to practice there.

First up was Attorney General Tom Clark to introduce his new solicitor, Phil Perlman. They looked like the Smith brothers, without the whiskers, in identical clawhammer coats with white carnations in the labels, and striped pants, like diplomats. No spats.

4 Lawyers Per Minute

The chief justice told Clark's man to go over by the clerk to be sworn in; then came the rest of the lawyers. Mr. Chief Justice Fred Vinson waved 'em all over toward the clerk. When all were packed tightly in the aisle, in- cluding two lady lawyers in skirts with the new long look, the clerk told them to raise their hands and be sworn in. Then he led 'em out the side door. The entire proceedings took 14 minutes.

The justices walked out to lunch, which consisted of spaghetti creole, 40 cents. They had theirs in their private dining room; the new practitioners before the su- preme bar slupped theirs in the court's cafeteria.

Next week the justices will be- gin handing down opinions; I must report one earlier decision which indicates the court is co- operating fully with the fuel- saving campaign. Its retiring rooms de luxe contains automatic wash basins, which used to fill themselves to the rim and then turn themselves off. No more.

The supreme court this term gives a man a half inch of hot water in which to wash his hands and not one smidgen more.

ERIE SEEKS BOATS FOR N.Y. HARBOR

Special to The Star

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7—The Erie Railroad is in the market for 28 pieces of new marine equipment to augment its fleet of 237 boats now operating in New York har- bor, R. E. Woodruff, president, announced today.

Specifications are now being prepared and in a few days the Erie will invite shipbuilders to bid on one 1,000 horsepower diesel tugboat, 10 steel barges, 15 steel lighters and two steel car- floats involving a total expendi- ture of about $1,700,000.

"Shipments through the port of New York for both domestic and foreign delivery have been taxing all of our available floating equipment to the utmost," Wood- ruff said. "With the receipt of these new boats we will be able to expedite the movement of freight through the harbor and replace older equipment which has become too costly to repair."

Delivery of the new equipment will probably not be made for about a year.

Ohio Congressman Says Germany Spurns Redism

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 7 — Rep. John M. Vorys (R-Ohio), home from a months study abroad, as- serted today "there is more sta- bility and less communism in Germany than in other parts of western Europe," despite food and other shortages.

Vorys went to Europe as a member of the select committee on foreign aid and as chairman of the foreign economic policy subcommittee of the house foreign affairs committee.

Meanwhile, Rep. Cliff Cleven- ger (R-Ohio), returning to Wash- ington yesterday from Europe, de- manded a new set of American administrators in occupied Eu- rope. The Bryan, O., congress- man said he was opposed to a special session of congress to con- sider Europe's relief problems.

Circus Denied Request To Winter at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 7 — Bucyrus will not be the winter quarters of a circus this coming winter, it has been decided by the Craw- ford county fair board.

The board has voted against the return of Mills Brothers because, it was reported, horse stalls have been placed in the buildings that were used by the circus last winter. The stalls are preparations for next year's county fair, the first in several years.

Previously, the board had vot- ed against the circus at a May meeting on the grounds that the circus' electric bill was as much as the rent collected. During its stay here the circus reported ex- penditures of $60,000 mostly in equipment bought in Bucyrus.

MARION WOMAN CONVENTION HEAD

Mrs. Jacobs To Preside at Ohio Child League Meeting.

A Marion woman, Mrs. Harold Jacobs of Forest street, will pre- side for the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of the Child Conservation League which opens Thursday at Toledo. Mrs. James F. Lauer of Prospect, state corre- sponding secretary, and Mrs. Ja- cobs will leave Wednesday for pre-convention meetings. A num- ber of members from the various units of the Marion Federation, Child Conservation League, plan to attend one or more sessions of the two-day meeting, which will be held at the Commodore Perry hotel.

The convention theme is "Our Children Facing New Horizons, Light Their Candles from Our Torches." Mrs. Clarence Gold- thorpe of Youngstown, will be the speaker for the Thursday after- noon session and there will be a banquet in the evening, followed by a reception.

There are 16 leagues in the Marion federation of which Mrs. John Arlopoeus is president.

Bucyrus Driver Fined After 4-Car Accident

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 7 — Wallace Fackler of near Bucyrus, was fined $100 and costs and given a suspended 30-day jail sentence on condition that fine and costs are paid, as the outgrowth of a traf- fic accident Sunday involving four cars. The mishap occured on East Mansfield street near the Bucyrus country club. Fackler was charged with drunken driving.

Florence Clark, a passenger with Fackler, was fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge.

Cars involved were three being driven west by Harold Steinhelfer, Howard E. Ellis of Lima and Dan Fisher of Marion.

Police said Fackler failed to stop after the accident and both he and his passenger were lo- cated later in the Fackler home.

DEPUTY SHERIFF DIES OF GUNSHOT WOUNDS

By The Associated Press

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 7—Deputy Sheriff Charles Ross, 48, of Washington County, O., died last night in a Parkersburg hospital (Camden-Clark) from abdominal wounds suffered early Sunday when shot at Little Hocking, O.

Clyde Ottmar Gilliland, 56, a farm laborer sought by a posse of about 30 officers after the shooting, surrendered yesterday to Sheriff W. A. Lindemood of Washington county in Marietta.

Lindamood said that in his only statement to date, Gilliland related that he had been drinking Saturday night and had gone to bed when Ross and another deputy drove up in front of his home. The man told officers he thought he had shot high, that he merely intended to frighten what he thought was an intruder, and that he did not remember Ross saying that he was from the sheriff's office.

Deputy Sheriff Lorentz Oliver, who was with Ross at the time of the shooting, said they went to the house to investigate a telephone call about some kind of disturbance.

Oliver asserted Ross identified himself as being from the sheriff's office but that a shotgun was discharged from the house as Ross approached within five feet of the door.

Running to Ross' aid, Oliver said he placed the wounded man in the automobile and as he shut the door another charge of shot struck the vehicle.

After rushing Ross to the hospital, Oliver and other officers returned to the house and learned Gilliland had fled. The man was accompanied by two sons and a brother when he surrendered.

In Marietta Prosecutor E. E. Erb said that a first degree murder charge would be filed against Gilliland.

After flooring his opponent 27 times in a bout in Paris in 1907 Sam McVey became so discouraged he quit in the 409th round.

Pitching for the Senators against the Yankees, Ed Linke stretched, looked at the runner on first and threw to the hitter—a line drive bounced off Linke's head back to the catcher who threw to first doubling the runner.

Mt. Vernon Council Rules Phone Franchise Is Void

By The Associated Press

MT. VERNON, O., Oct. 7—The city council last night held the 53-year-old franchise of the Mt. Vernon Telephone Co. in default.

In a resolution, the council required the company to appear within six months to offer proof of efforts to remedy present "inadequate" service "or show cause why action should not be taken to rescind the franchise."

The Mt. Vernon firm, a subsidiary of the Telephone Service Co., of Lima, planned conversion to automatic equipment in 1942, but this conversion was delayed by the war.

Last August it announced it could not get new switchboard equipment until the spring of 1949.

NEW FARM POLICY TO BE PRESENTED

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—Rep. Gross (R-Pa) threw a joint session of the house and senate agriculture committees into an uproar today as he accused the agriculture department of "deliberate falsehoods, downright lies," in his description of the plight of the average American farm family. Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) broke in to ask the agriculture department to explain why in view of the dire living conditions in rural areas, "the department now is trying to break the grain market."

* * *

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 — The administration presents to a joint session senate and house agriculture committees today its proposed long-range farm policy of "organized, sustained and realistic abundance."

The policy includes specific suggestions for revisions of the parity price formula, which is intended to keep farmers' purchasing power at a fair level.

In a preliminary statement, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said the farm program of the future should emphasize consumption of food rather than curtailed production as a means of avoiding price-depressing surpluses when America no longer is called upon to make large food shipments abroad.

An agriculture department spokesman told the committees yesterday that the nation "faces a possible deterioration, erosion and depletion" of its farm population, unless rural areas get "something approaching parity in living standards" with cities.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan made these eight suggestions for improving farm life:

1. Encouragement of rural industry; 2. Landlord responsibility for providing adequate housing for tenants; 3. Development of "a national system of health insurance"; 4. Improved rural education; 5. Government home loans to farmers; 6. Extension of social security to farmers; 7. Expansion of rural electrification and telephone services; and 8. Extension of farm cooperatives.

LIQUOR

ing from ordinary dust to insects.

Moon said citations would be asked against any permit holders found wilfully contaminating his whisky or allowing dirt or filth to get into the bottles.

Although the department runs chemical tests on samples of all liquors it buys for distribution to state stores and to permit holders, no check of liquor after it reaches the permit holders has been made for four years, Moon said.

The inspectors use a portable testing kit by which they determine the alcoholic content and proof of whisky by specific gravity, Moon said.

In full view of the permit holder, they take random bottles from his shelves, put them through the tests, and then go on to the next place.

"Holders Scared Stiff"

"Some of the permit holders have been scared stiff," Moon commented, "but we have had complaints from the public about the quality of whisky served in many places and we're going to put a stop to the practice of saving money by adding water to the bottle."

He indicated that some of the complaints involved "swanky spots," but said he was withholding the citation requests until he had a report on the whole staff.

Although the report will cover only the 30 days of this particular sampling, he said, the three teams will continue the work indefinitely in an effort to keep up quality standards.

Moon indicated that the majority of permit holders did not engage in the alleged practices, but that complaints had been sufficiently numerous to warrant the statewide investigation.

Statue's Rose Crown Stays Fresh 5 Months

By The Associated Press

STOCKPORT, Eng., Oct. 7—The parish priest of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church said today his parishoners were awed and enraptured by a crown of 22 yellow roses which he reported still fresh five months after they were placed on a statue of the Virgin Mary.

The statue, four feet six inches high and of carved orangewood, is the personal property of the pastor, Rev. James Turner, D.D.

He said that every year, on the first Sunday in May, it was brought to the sanctuary for the traditional crowning ceremony, and that the garlands normally began to wilt and shed within two weeks.

This year, seven-year-old Pauline Byrne crowned the statue with roses. The priest said the blooms, which were bought from a local florist, had not been touched or watered since then. He said hundreds of devout Catholics were flocking to the church to see the statue.

"It is not for me to say it is a miracle, but it's above nature and beyond nature," Father Turner said.

Findlay Votes Increase In Pay for City Workers

By The Associated Press

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 7—Pay increases ranging from five to 10 per cent were voted for city employes and officials by the city council last night.

Increases for the employes are effective Oct. 16; those for the officials Jan. 1.

The additional amounts were voted to cover higher costs of living.

U. S. Won't Be Asked To Skip Holiday Turkey

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—Americans won't be asked to forego turkey on Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's, although these holidays fall on eggless and poultryless Thursdays under the food conservation program.

President Truman's food committee modified the program to exclude the three holidays. It asked, however, that the nation give up those foods on the Mondays before the holidays.

MRS. FLORENCE KEIGHTLEY DIES AT HOME IN AKRON

Was Former Marion Resident; Funeral Wednesday.

Mrs. Florence Keightley, 72, of Akron, a former resident of Marion and relative of Marion residents, died today at her home in Akron.

She was born Aug. 6, 1875, in Claridon township to Alexander Austin and Matilda Mitchell Austin, the father a native of Ross county and the mother of Marion county. She has resided in Akron for the last 27 years, going there from Marion, and is a member of the Methodist church in Akron.

Surviving are her husband, Morris, three children, Mrs. Gertrude Sullivan of Akron, Paul Keightley of Connalsville, Pa., and Mrs. Edward Tucker of Florida, two sisters, Mrs. P. W. Fetter of South High street, and Mrs. Edith Soles of East Farming street, and a brother, Claude Austin of east of Marion.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday in Akron and the body will arrive here Thursday noon for services at 3:30 p. m. at the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home on East Center street. Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, will officiate, and burial will be in Marion cemetery.

British Prime Minister To Shake Up Cabinet

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 7—Prime Minister Clement Attlee presented to King George VI today a plan for a large-scale cabinet shakeup which, in the view of some political writers, may mark a crucial point in his career as Britain's "crisis" leader.

Attlee, whose leadership has been attacked by both the left and right, drove to Buckingham palace shortly before noon to ask the king's approval—a formality—for changes expected to affect several senior as well as junior ministers.

A government informant said the shakeup would be announced in Wednesday morning newspapers.

CARPENTERS FACE AFL SHOWDOWN TEST

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7—Big Bill Hutcheson's decades of influence as head of the carpenters came to a critical test today as the AFL executive council called Hollywood union chiefs to a showdown in the labor federation's most notorious jurisdictional dispute.

The AFL recessed its annual convention until Wednesday while the executive council's 15 members met to discuss the tangle between Hutcheson's union and the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, involving approximately 350 jobs as set erectors.

About 5,000 carpenters, painters, janitors and others have been idle for more than a year, while IATSE members held their jobs.

The council up to now has leaned toward Hutcheson in the dispute, in spite of a decision in December 1945 by three council members acting as arbitrators which gave the controversial erection work to IATSE.

But Hutcheson and John L. Lewis, boss of the United Mine Workers, are teamed up at the convention which began yesterday, and a substantial number of executive council members determined:

(1) To call Hutcheson's frequent threats that he would take the 600,000 carpenters out of the AFL if he did not get his way in jurisdictional tilts with other AFL unions and,

(2) To make it possible for AFL unions to use the national labor relations board, despite Lewis' refusal to sign a non-Communist affidavit under the Taft-Hartley act.

17-Year-Old Sentenced To Life for Slaying

By The Associated Press

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 7—Seventeen-year-old George Thomas Lee of Oconto, Wis., today faced life imprisonment for the mutilation slaying of Charles Mulholland, 8, of Lincoln last July 14.

A district court jury of seven women and five men last night convicted Lee of first degree murder and fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.

Under Nebraska law the jury fixes the penalty in a first degree murder trial.

Lee sat stolidly while the jury's verdict was read but his mother, Mrs. Murn Lee of Dayton, O., who has been with her son during the week-long trial, broke into tears.

Arrested in Des Moines, Ia., a week after the Mulholland boy's stripped and mutilated body was found in an unused hayloft, Lee signed a statement admitting he had choked and attacked the boy and then wrapped a necktie around his neck three times.

U. S. Newspapers Asked To Support Food Plan

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—Chairman Charles Luckman of the Citizens Food committee asked news services last night to distribute the following statement:

"To the editors of the nation's newspapers:

"The tremendous support our nation's newspapers are already giving to the citizens food committee program is greatly appreciated. Starting tomorrow, Tuesday, Oct. 7 and every Tuesday following will you feature on your front page 'No meat today.' On every Thursday will you feature 'No eggs or poultry today.' Every measure of support to this voluntary program in whatever way you deem most effective will be welcome."

He also asked radio stations to announce five times every Tuesday "No meat today," and on Thursday "No eggs or poultry today."

Alleged West Newton Slayer's Trial Date Set

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., Oct. 7—The trial of 42-year-old Lester Nichols of Silver Lake, Ind., on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of his estranged wife's minister-father, was scheduled today to begin Dec. 1 by Common Pleas Judge Moran B. Jenkins.

Judge Jenkins refused a motion by new counsel for the accused man to quash the indictment on grounds the title "Reverend" preceded the name of the slain man, 76-year-old Louis Whittaker.

Mr. Whitaker was shot to death last May 6 in his West Newton home and his daughter, Nora, 44, wounded during an altercation with Nichols.

Nichols pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity last July 22.

Brotherhoods, Railways Open Rules Negotiation

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 7—Representatives of the nation's railroads and of five operating brotherhoos prepared to open negotiations today on the union's demands for changes in 44 working rules for their more than 300,000 members.

A carrier spokesman, said the proposed changes by the brotherhoods, representing, engineers, firemen conductors, trainmen and switchmen would cost the railroads an estimated $1,000,000,000 annually in operating costs.

The proposed changes involve various phases of railroad operations including length of trains, size and number of crews, work assignments and appointment of supervisory personnel.

QUIT-PALESTINE DAT WEIGHED BY BRITIS

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 7—T British government has speed up consultations to fix a date withdrawal from Palestine, informed British quarters said toda

These quarters said this qu tion was now being conside urgently by British officials London and British adminis tive and military leaders in Pa estine.

The actual date of withdraw may be announced before the e of the present session of United Nations assembly, it w said.

The same sources, explain that complete British withdraw would be contingent on failure the assembly to find a solution a ceptable to both Arabs and Jew said Britain had not complete abandoned hope that agreeme could be reached.

The British informant said Br ain planned no further stateme of policy on the Palestine pro lem beyond the announcement the withdrawal date. He sa Britain would not take an offici stand on the plan to partition Holy Land.

These disclosures came as assembly's 57-nation Palesti committee was called into sessi to resume the first round of n tional policy statements.

The main interest still center on the expected declarations the United States and Russia la er in the week, probably Thur day. The delegates were general agreed that the success of a plan would depend largely whether the big powers, partic larly the United States, were p pared to provide force to imp ment it.

The Bethlehem grange male quartet, awarded first honors in the county contest, will enter the district quartet contest to be held at Sparta, Oct 8, it was announced. E A Williams, county deputy, reported on plans for the seventh degree to be conferred Nov. 13, at Columbus. Four candidates were obligated.

For the lecture hour the program opened with selections by a vocal quartet composed of Margaret, Ora, Anna Mae and Marilyn Howald of Bethlehem Grange who played their own accompaniments. Mrs Hazel Allen of Bowling Green Grange gave a reading and a vocal duet was by Esther and Marilyn Lindley, accompanied at the piano by Mr Burbaugh. In a sewing contest in charge of Mrs Zell Owens Jr, the participants were Mr. and Mrs E A Williams, Mr and Mrs Ralph Williams, Mr and Mrs Cletus Uhl, Mr and Mrs Delbert Greenwood, Joan Owen, Delta Owen, Muan Gorby and Mae Keeler. The contest was won by E A Williams. A bean contest was in charge of Kenneth Pangborn of Martel Grange and was won by Charles Brady. Mrs E A Williams announced that a "toy contest would be held at the next meeting Nov 1 when Martel Grange will be host.

NEW BLOOMINGTON DINNER

A dinner at the home of Mrs Thomas D Corey of New Bloomington recently was in celebration of her twenty-ninth birthday anniversary which was Sept 28. The table held two birthday cakes and flowers decorated the rooms. The celebrant received a number of remembrances. Present were Mrs Joy C Landgrabe and Miss Mary Landgrabe of Cleveland, Irvin Corey, Mr and Mrs G C Chambers, Mr and Mrs J C Chambers, Mary Joyce Chambers and Barbara Chambers of New Bloomington. The homestead in which Mrs Corey lives has been in the Corey family for more than 100 years.

START LOSING FAT FIRST DAY without starvation, harmful drugs, laxatives, exercise or massage

Yes, Kyron Tablets, the new food tablet way to reduce, will help you lose up to 7 lbs first 7 days—or you pay nothing. If your excess weight is caused by over-eating (and not glandular), Kyron is designed to act 3 ways: (1) to help appease your hunger, to cut down your appetite automatically, yet you never feel hungry, (2) Includes nutritious elements to help maintain your energy while reducing, (3) Recommends in package many foods often falsely labeled in ordinary diets as "fattening." Indorsement by your physician recommended.

"I LOST 35 POUNDS IN 7 WEEKS" —says Mrs Kathryn Walker, 3338 West Potomac Avenue, Chicago

"Kyron results have been absolutely astonishing. I am 37 years old and have a 7-year old daughter. When I started using Kyron, I weighed 153 pounds, and felt awfully old and let-down. In 7 weeks, I lost 35 pounds. I used to feel sluggish and always tired. Now I feel so much younger and gayer. My friends and my husband can't get over the change that has taken place in 7 short weeks."

REDUCE up to 7 POUNDS First 7 Days—Or No Cost

MAKE THIS 7-DAY TEST without risking a penny! Get a package of Kyron Tablets from your druggist. Eat these condensed food tablets for 7 days—and follow directions as explained in package. Check your weight before and after using Kyron. If you are not 100% delighted with results return the empty package to your druggist, and he will return your money. Make this test today. YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Severe Coughing

Few things will send a patient to a doctor in search of help more quickly than incessant coughing. Small wonder either, because severe and repeated fits of coughing can rob the sufferer of all rest and exhaust him more completely than a hard day's work.

And yet it is not always an easy matter even for a doctor to control coughing. It can often be relieved by the giving of sedatives or quieting drugs but since such measures do nothing to get at the cause of the cough, which may be due to conditions either in the throat, windpipe, lungs, or voice-box, they give no more than temporary help Any real method of controlling a cough must depend on its cause and the associated conditions which may be present

Coughing due to some disturbance of the lungs, for instance, may occur without the patient being able to bring up the secretions which are producing the coughing attack. When the secretions in the lungs are not eliminated, infection occurs, and, in addition, the patient may be exhausted by his unproductive but constant attacks. When secretions are present in the lungs, relief comes only when these secretions are eliminated

The elimination of secretions from the lungs can be brought out in other ways than by expectoration. Under the proper circumstances, large amounts of the secretions may be absorbed from the lungs. To encourage this, Dr. Andrew Banyai of Milwaukee, Wis, has for a number of years used carbon dioxide, a gas which is normally present in the air. This gas is administered simply and safely without interfering with the patient's comfort. The gas is given by having the patient breathe it in.

Sometimes is has been found helpful to combine the carbon dioxide mixture with steam It has been found that this method of treatment may prevent spells of strenuous, exhausting coughing, thus securing rest for the patient, and particularly for the lungs.

Moreover, the treatment often changes the coughing from the unproductive type, that is one in which no secretions are brought up, to one in which the secretions are more easily coughed up.

With this method of treatment, the use of drugs to increase the expectoration, as well as sedatives, may be reduced.

Directly after the treatment, the amount of expectorated material is increased, and, instead of being thick, it is thinner and more watery

Following the breathing in of the carbon dioxide, the patient may be placed in a position in which the head and shoulders are lower than the chest, to bring about more rapid draining of the secretions from the lungs

This method of treatment is employed only to relieve coughing and is not expected to affect the condition producing the coughing attacks

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J A: My ears block up quite often Could a vitamin deficiency be the cause?

Answer It is not likely that a vitamin deficiency is the cause of your condition It is possible that you have some infection of the eustachian tube which leads from the throat to the middle ear An examination by an ear specialist would be advisable

Ministers To Dedicate Service to World Relief

A discussion was held on "Why Do Ministers Take Time for Daily Devotions?" at a meeting of the Marion County Ministerial association Monday forenoon at the Y.M.C.A. It was led by Rev. Elcred Johnston, with Rev. E. C. Slutey, Capt. Davis of the Salvation Army, Rev. Ellis Guthrie and Rev. R. W. Faulkner taking part.

In response to a recommendation of the social action committee of the Marion Council Council of Churches, it was decided to urge observance of Oct. 26 in various churches as World Order Sunday. Plans were made to dedicate the union Thanksgiving service this year to world relief and to secure a qualified speaker on the subject to give the message.

A marital counseling clinic for ministers to be set up at a future date was voted, and the group expressed intention of backing up the project of Kiwanis club of taking a citywide church census.

Navy Club Auxiliary Reports on Reunion

When the women's auxiliary of the Marion Navy club met Monday night at the clubrooms on West Church street, Mrs. Mary Houk was a guest. Delegates' reports were made on the Ohio squadron fall reunion at Lima last Saturday and Sunday by Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds, past national commandant and Ohio Squadron auxiliary historian, and by Mrs. Valeria Haugan, Ohio Squadron auxiliary shipswriter. Mrs. Sara Pickett gave a report on a recent meeting of the United Veterans council, and Mrs. Esther Oberour, commandant, and Mrs. Haughn were named to represent the auxiliary on the council in the future. Alfred Whittington, commandant of Navy Club Ship No 3, talked on Anchor day sales to be held Oct. 24 and 25. Committees reported on a plan for entertaining the Ohio Squadron auxiliary commandant, Mrs. Glauys Stiles of Springfield, Oct 20. Mrs. Oberour appointed Mrs. Eva Pierce and Mrs. Jean Watt as colorbearers for the remainder of the year.

CHILDREN'S HOME CROWDED

BUCYRUS, Oct. 7—Housing conditions in Crawford county are beginning to be felt at the county children's home at Galion. Superintendent Marvin Adams reports that more and more children are being admitted from families unable to find proper housing facilities, and that the home is not large enough to continue taking them. Nine have been admitted the last month.

He advises that the county is in need of a "receiving home" for up to five children at a time. Adams has appealed to the people of the county to make possible in their homes the care of one or two children until permanent quarters can be found for them.

Injury by Hit-Skip Driver Prevents Pet Dog From Answering Call of Its Stricken Owner

By MARY HERRING

A little four-year-old girl burst into tears at City hospital Monday and efforts of family members and nurses to console her were futile.

Little June Anne Watson has been undisturbed over the fact that she will probably lose one eye, but when her mother, Mrs. Ruth Clark had to tell her she couldn't see her dog, Butchie, the little girl was heartbroken.

The child had been begging her mother to bring the Little black spaniel to the hospital window so she could see her "pal". Finally the mother had to tell the girl that Butchie had been hurt by a car.

What Mrs. Clark didn't tell her small daughter was that Butchie had been run down deliberately in front of their home on West Fairground street and was seriously injured.

Last Sunday night at 7 o'clock, the black spaniel had gone to the edge of the lawn to retrieve a ball thrown by an older brother and sister. June's grandmother and some neighbors who were sitting on the front porch looked up in time to see a large dark sedan speeding west toward the house. Mrs. Clark said the car swerved to the south side of the road and deliberately ran over the dog, which was still on the edge of the lawn. The driver laughed when he looked back before driving from sight, she said.

Butchie is desperately trying to recover from two broken front legs and possible internal injuries, while his small mistress grieves because she can't see him.

The dog was given to June by an uncle, Sgt. Richard Hartsough now stationed in Germany, when the little girl was just starting to walk. Mrs. Clark said the two have grown up together and June started to toddle holding on to the dog's curly hair.

Likely To Lose Eye

Marion physicians have made an attempt to stitch the little girl's eyeball in hoping to save the eye, injured by a knife, but believe it will have to be removed. She has been in the hospital since Sept. 27.

The eye was cut when June was trying on a Hallowe'en false face. The mask had been tied around her face and she complained it was too tight. June snatched a small knife from the table and tried to cut the cord. The blade slipped through the mask and slashed the eyeball. Although doctors tried to save it, the wound so far isn't healing properly and they think the eye will have to be removed.

Bowling in the Independent league at the Palace Recreation Friday night, Hanovich made high single game with a 244. Herriott's 577 topped the series totals. He bowled a 238 game to go. Gottfried was a point behind off single games of 166-200, and 210. Other 200 bowlers in that league were Gilmore, 202, Feichtner, 202, Gibb 13, Nicolosi 210 and Gibb, 200.

Redding's 222 topped the single game scores in the Commercial league rolling on the same alleys. R. Mong's 10, 189, and 194 made the high series total of 593. Other 200 Commercial bowlers were Haycock, 212, C. Hoffman, 214, Turner, 209, and Goerlich, 207.

The Mom and Pop and City loops bowled at the Marion Recreation Friday.

Individual three game series and league standings follow.

5 Richwood Men Arrested, Fined

Five Richwood men pleaded guilty in municipal court today when arraigned on disorderly conduct and intoxication charges.

Those arrested by city police at 3:37 a. m. today on West Church street on disorderly conduct charges were Lester Ray Foreman, 21, and Robert Willard Russell, 21. They were fined $25 and costs each.

Three arrested at 4:49 a. m. on Olney avenue and charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct included: Isaiah Welcome Millington, 18, George Kirby Jr., 24, and Guy Courtland Mallow, 57. All pleaded guilty and were fined $35 and costs each.

Police made the arrests after they received reports the five had been creating a disturbance on Kenton avenue.

Home and Museum Closed Temporarily

The Harding Home and Museum at 380 Mt. Vernon avenue has been closed temporarily on account of the illness of J. Fred Dombaugh, director, and Mrs. Dombaugh, it was announced today by officers of the Harding Memorial association.

4 Men Nabbed After Chase from Train

Four men ranging in age from 22 to 28, came out on the losing end of a chase which took them aboard an Erie freight train and later landed them in the county jail yesterday afternoon. They will be arraigned in municipal court, probably Wednesday, on charges of train riding and larceny.

The quartet was arrested by the sheriff's department following a complaint from Mrs. Coulson of Espyville, who reported the men had been loitering along the Erie right-of-way and later attempted to enter her house. Apparently frightened away they picked up a bottle of milk as they left the premises.

Upon the officer's arrival he found the men had boarded a westbound freight train and signalled the crew to slow down to permit him to board the train. Finding themselves pursued the men jumped off the train, followed by the officer who immediately arrested them.

King's Daughters Circle Meets with Mrs. Wogan

The Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters was entertained Monday night at the home of Mrs. L. Wogan of 764 South Prospect street, with Miss Mabel Wheatley serving as assistant hostess.

Miss Wheatley conducted devotions on the subject, "Spiritual Power," and Mrs. Roy Holdridge gave a review of the international work among Indians. Miss Dorothy Wogan presented two vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Cecil Davis, and Mrs. O. D. Anderson and Mrs. Davis gave several piano duets.

Plans were made to have a jelly and fruit shower for Maplecrest in Bucyrus at the next work meeting to be held Oct. 14 at the First Presbyterian church. A social hour followed and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

BOARD APPROVES TRAINING PROGRAM

Shovel Co. To Sponsor Course for Handicapped Men.

Approval of the launching of a training program for the handicapped veterans for the Marion Power Shovel Co., staff appointments and the payments of bills were major items of business at the monthly meeting of the city board of education, Monday afternoon, at the school administration building.

The training program for veterans, which will be conducted at the Harding Vocational shop, will include a 50-hour course and will be carried on through the cooperation of the veterans administration. Upon the recommendation of Supt. F. E. Holt the board approved the appointment of Mrs. Mildred Grigsby as social science instructor at Harding High school succeeding George Wilson who resigned earlier in the school year, and Francis C. Field as on-the-job coordinator, for this area. The latter is a part of the veterans administration program. Recommended also by the superintendent and approved by the board was the closing of school on Friday, Oct. 24, to permit the teachers to attend a meeting of the Central Ohio Teachers association to be held in Columbus Oct. 24 and 25.

Bills approved by the board included $1,595.55 for school lighting improvements, $4,020 architect's fees on plans for the Silver Street school improvement, $1,400 for lockers at Harding High school, $4,187.12, repairs on a number of school buildings, $1,782.11, school books, $710.31, coal, $1,000 for the temperature controls at Glenwood building, $1,352.26 heating units and shower installed at Harding stadium and $1,149.32 for plumbing service.

Awards Presented At Scout Court of Honor

Ten members of Boy Scout Troop No. 15, sponsored by Central Presbyterian church, were presented awards at a court of honor ceremony at the church Saturday night. The program included opening prayer, presentation of colors, pledge of allegiance, introductory remarks by Loy Rhoads, Scoutmaster, presentation of awards by Richard Miller, presentation of certificates to committeemen by Dillon Anderson, presentation of certificates to Scouts by Carl Campbell, presentation of Boy's Life Journal by N. W. Fogt and introduction of court of honor members by Harold Pearce Jr. Awards were presented Dave Koenig, Fred Kull, and Ed Matthews, tenderfoot, by James Sloan; Steve Lytle, second class, by James Lytle, and Steve Orta, first class, by Mr. Lytle. Merit badges went to Richard Drake, Dean Drake, Nelson Luse, James Bentley, Wallace Musgrave and Steve Orta, presented by N. Miller; James Bentley and Richard Drake were made Star Scouts by Mr. Anderson and Dean Drake Life Scout, by Mr. Rhoads.

HARDING TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY, IRISH AT MARYSVILLE

Prexies To Gun For Win No. 4 In Stadium Tilt

The rampaging Harding Presidents, who have shown marked improvement with every game played this season, meet Lima South at the stadium Friday in their first real football test since their opener with Fostoria.

They'll be trying for their fourth straight win.

Last year the Lima Blue and Gold squad whipped the Presidents, 31-0, but then, who didn't?

This year, Lima has a record of one win and three defeats.

They dropped their opener to Whiting, Ind., 38-6, won over Findlay the next week, 15-7, then lost two straight by big scores, 52-0 to Hamilton, and 27-14 to Middletown.

The three Lima losses were at the hands of some of the toughest teams in two states, however. Whiting ranks as Indiana's sixth best high school football team, and Hamilton and Middletown rank among the best 10 teams in Ohio. Hamilton was voted second best in an Associated Press poll taken last week, while Middletown rated fifth.

Lima put up a tough fight against Middletown last Friday and two scoring threats, one of them to the Middletown six yards line, nearly gave Lima an upset victory.

Lima linemen Don Broger at left end and Dick Thomas at right guard are of all-Ohio calibre and are in on nearly every Lima defensive play. Lima's speedy halfback, Dick Putt, who has been out of the last two games with a sprained ankle, is expected to be ready to start against the Presidents Friday night.

All of which ought to satisfy Harding fans that a tough yardstick will be there Friday to measure the surprising Presidents.

Yankees Win Their 11th World Series Championship

Better Pitching, Heavier Power in Bats Spell Difference As Dope Sheet Hinted

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—The New York Yankees won their 11th World Series just as they figured to do—on a solid pitching edge over the shoddy Brooklyn Dodger staff and the extra base power in their bats.

Game to the last out of the seventh game, the Brooks made it close all the way on speed and hustle. But in the final innings of yesterday's 5-2 Yankee clincher, there was Fireman Joe Page coming from the bullpen to outshine the Dodgers' best while New York strengthened its lead.

Well pitched games by Frank Shea, Allie Reynolds and Floyd Bevens—whose 8 2/3 innings of no-hit pitching before losing was the best job of the series—showed the Yankees' strength. Those three complete games and the relief work of Page overshadowed the valiant efforts of Hugh Casey, the Dodger relief hero.

No Brooklyn starting pitcher lasted through the fifth inning and the final game followed the same familiar pattern. The Dodger starter, Hal Gregg, didn't last through the fourth.

Gets Credit for Win

When it was all over, reliefer Page, who had been thumped soundly in Sunday's thriller, received credit for the win that prompted Larry MacPhail to dash into the clubhouse, weeping tears of joy and loosen a "surprise" announcement of his retirement.

The Yankee batting average of .282 dwarfed the Brooks' .230 and set a new series high for a seven-game set. Included among their 67 hits were 11 doubles, five triples and four homers as compared to 13 doubles, one triple and one homer by Brooklyn.

Passing up Casey because his club finally lost despite his personal 0.87 earned run average, the crown of series hero probably belongs on the head of Johnny Lindell who missed the finale with a fractured rib.

Lindell led the hitters with .500 on nine hits in 18 trips. He scored three runs and batted in seven with his five singles, three doubles and triple.

For secondary heroes, the Yanks could put forth Tommy Henrich who hit .323; Phil Rizzuto who matched a .308 average with brilliant defensive play; Frank Shea, who won two games in his freshman year or Page, the bullpen artist.

Branca Is Goat

If the goat tag is pinned on anybody it should go to Ralph Branca, the 21-game winner who was slugged for 12 hits and eight earned runs in 8 1/3 innings of work, or Pete Reiser, the centerfielder who misplayed two fly balls into triples in the second game and let a grounder go through his legs for an error in the opener.

Yankee infield play surpassed Brooklyn's and Joe DiMaggio was the standout afield, despite his .231 average. Two of his six hits were homers.

The richest series in history, drawing a net gate of $2,021,348.92 from 389,763 paying customers, may not have pleased the baseball purists but it gave the customers their full value in thrills.

Pay day for the players comes later when Commissioner A. B. Chandler mails out the checks. It has been learned that the Brooks will slice up 33 shares, not including the one they voted to ex-Manager Leo Durocher before Chandler said "no." That would bring their losing cut to about $4,200 each. The Yanks probably will get about $6,300 apiece.

New single game attendance marks were set when 73,365 jammed Yankee stadium for Tuesday's opener and 74,065 erased that mark in the same park Sunday.

6-MAN FOOTBALL SET AT STADIUM OCT. 11

Football fans in Marion will get a chance Saturday night to see how six-man football is played when two undefeated county squads meet on the stadium gridiron in a game that will probably determine the Double-M league championship.

Caledonia meets LaRue at 8:15 and watch for some razzle dazzle.

Both teams have three victories, and both are hot for another.

Coach Don Burton's LaRue team rolled over Claridon, 44-10, in the opener, smashed Prospect, 45-0, and went on last week to beat Jonsville, 42-16.

Defending champions, Caledonia, edged Huron in their opener, 14-12, outscored Johnsville, 42-26, and whipped Claridon, 42-6.

Burbrink, Shuford, Bobzean of Bruins May Spend Off Season Working Here

Three Cub players tentatively plan to spend the off season in Marion. They are Manager Nelson Burbrink, shortstop Gene Bobzean and rightfielder Bob Shuford.

Burbrink has been assiged to the Macon Peaches of the class A South Atlantic league but the move is probably protection from the draft. Should he not be claimed by a higher club, the Cub pilot would be eligible for draft into another chain.

Burbrink's plans for the winter have not been completely decided upon but he thinks he may stay in Marion.

Bob Shuford, who has frequently expressed his liking for Marion and its fans, definitely plans to live here this winter. He expects to work in one of the industrial plants and may referee a few basketball games. His plans include no football, contrary to a frequently-heard rumor. He was recalled by Fayettesville, N. C. of the Class B Tri-State league for next season.

Gene Bobzean, assigned to Hutchinson, Kan., of the class C Western association plans to be married as soon as the season ends and has said he may return to Marion to live during the winter.

Maxhimer To Saw Wood

Dwight Maxhimer plans to saw wood this winter—literally. He'll work with his father in the carpenter trade at Massillon, his home town. Next spring he'll report to Fayettesville.

Roy Hollingshead and John Smith plan to take it easy for a while before securing employment. Hollingshead hails from Rahway, N. J. and Smith from Medford, Mass. Hollingshead will go to Sioux Falls, N. D. in the class C Northern league while Smith will start with Hutchinson.

Mel Nelson plans to farm with his father at his home near Toledo. He has been recalled by Davenport, Ia. of the class B Three-I league.

Wally Rasmussen and Jim Forbes will work in Chicago, their home town, this winter. Forbes will go to Hutchinson next year and Rasmuzzen to Ogdensburg, N. Y. of the class C Border league.

4 Go To Hutchinson

Bert Flammini, Frank Smith, Bill Rosin and Jim Sabens will all report to Hutchinson next year. Flammini lives at East Boston, Mass., Smith at Watertown, N. Y., Rosin at Birmingham, Mich. and Sabens near Champaign, Ill.

Ed Witowski plans to go to school this year but hasn't decided as yet just where. He'll pitch for Davenport next year.

John Graney and Nick Alivojvodic may be with the local Cubs next season. Neither has been assigned elsewhere. Alivojvodic will tend bar in his father's tavern at Chicago this winter while Graney will farm at Perry, Iowa.

"Jitis" Lawrence, assigned to Clinton, Ia. of the class C Central association, will work at his home at Waukesha, Wis., this winter.

EDISON SQUAD BEATS VERNON JUNIORS, 8-0

Reserves Also Triumph, 6-0, in Game at Stadium.

Edison Junior High school dumped Vernon, 8-0, at the stadium last night to move into second place in the Tri-City junior football league with a record of two wins and a loss.

Edison opened the scoring in the first period when left halfback Luke plunged off tackle for the touchdown. The plunge for the extra point was not good.

Edison caught Vernon behind the Vernon goal line in the last quarter to score a safety and two more points.

In a preliminary reserve game, Edison's fullback Dick Hendell intercepted a Vernon pass with but a few seconds remaining in the game and galloped 85 yards for the winning touchdown.

Edison's wins over Vernon and Bucyrus and their loss to Galion put them in second place in the league behind Central and Galion, who are tied for first with a win each.

Edison meets Central at the stadium next Monday night, while Vernon goes to Galion Oct. 16.

Mark Set at Delaware Recognized by British

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 6—Two world track and field records by Americans have been approved by the International Amateur Athletic federation, Lord Burghley, IAAF president, announced today.

Harrison Dillard's time of 22.5 seconds for the 22-yard low hurdles, equalling the mark held by Fred Wolcott of Rice institute, and Bob Fitch's discus throw of 54.93 meters (180 feet, 2¾ inches) received official recognition.

Dillard, the Baldwin-Wallace college speedster, set his hurdles record at Delaware, O., June 8, 1946. Fitch, who performs for the University of Minnesota, made his discus record at Minneapolis the same day. Fitch's heave surpassed the mark of 54.23 meters. (177 feet 11 inches) made less than two months before by Adolfo Consolini of Italy. Consolini's record also was given recognition.

Loud Larry MacPhail Quits Game at Top But Few Are Sorry To See Him Leave

By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—Behind the scenes as the World Series drew to a close:

Larry MacPhail, the ranting redhead, went out exactly as he came in—insulting every sports writer in sight.

MacPhail wasn't any better saying goodbye than he was saying hello. Ever since his days at Cincinnati and through his tenure at Brooklyn and on through two years with the Yankees, Loquacious Larry never made too many friends. His adieu was a dilly.

In his usual ranting manner, he arrived at Yankee press quarters in a midtown hotel immediately after victory in the series and demanded of an attendant:

"Where is the Yankee victory party?"

Wants Own Room

Directed to the ballroom where the Yankees graciously had permitted the lowly newspapermen to enter, MacPhail roared:

"I'd like my own room for my own party."

This newspaper would not print the words with which he described the writers. When the word spread around the ballroom, it was a fortunate thing for MacPhail that he was among those absent.

Few men in baseball have been able to bow out on such a high note, leaving with the honor of having welded a pennant winner which went on to capture the championship of the baseball world. But few men have left the game with so much animosity scattered behind them.

MacPhail ever has been raucous, belligerent and thoughtless.

Novice at Cincinnati

He was a novice under the big top during his days at Cincinnati, a striving executive who gained notice by introducing night baseball. While there, however, and in all due deference to the Queen City, he did not have a big time press.

That came in Brooklyn, where the redhead became a national baseball figure. Win, lose or draw, those Brooklyn Bums merit worldwide attention. And it was there that MacPhail finally hit the bigtime limelight.

Came the war, and MacPhail accepted a commission and left the Flatbush pastures on which he had fattened. He came back two years ago to Yankee stadium, working a deal where Dan Topping and Del Webb put up most of the money, and he, MacPhail, became the president.

On Chandler's Orders?

Nobody knows, and nobody probably ever will know, whether Commissioner A. B. Chandler told MacPhail to get out of baseball. But MacPhail had been in trouble with the commissioner for two years.

MacPhail had a five-year contract with the richest club in baseball and few men ever make enough money that they don't want to make more. The estimate is that off the Yankees Loud Larry picked up a cool $1,000,000.

Whatever the reason, the Yankees will remain a great team. It wasn't MacPhail that drove in the runs or pitched the strikes which brought the Yankees home to a World Series victory over the Dodgers. It was a bunch of guys named Joe—DiMaggio, Page and all the others.

Billy Southworth Signs 5-Year Braves Contract

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—"Watch Boston in '48" was the cry in National league circles today following announcement of the signing of Manager Billy Southworth to a new five-year contract at a salary reported to be "in excess of" $250,000.

In announcing Southworth had signed a new contract last night, Lou Perini, president of the Braves, said he and the Boston pilot had agreed to tear up their old three-year agreement, which had a year to run, in favor of the five-year document. Perini is said to have spent more than $3,000,000, already on the Braves.

St. Mary Tied With Monarchs For Loop Lead

St. Mary Irish go to Marysville Friday to play the defending Mid-State league champions in a game that will probably decide the 1947 league championship.

The two teams are tied for league leadership.

Both St. Mary and Marysville won their only league games played this season—Marysville from Richwood last week, and the Irish from Carey two weeks ago.

Marysville is undefeated this season, but two tie games mar the record. The Monarchs tied Worthington, 13-13, in their opener, defeated Mechanicsburg, 12-0, tied Bellefontaine, 7-7, and edged Richwood last week 14-12.

The Irish won their opener from Delaware Willis, 13-0, lost to Lima St. Rose, 19-0, upset Carey, 18-7, and beat Tiffin Calvert last week, 25-6.

Irish Coach Gene Fetter, understandably sidestepping a prediction of the outcome of the game, would say only that his boys have been pointing for the Marysville game and would go into it raring to win.

John Baldauf, out of the starting lineup last Friday with an infected mouth, will probably be ready to start against the Monarchs. No other first string injuries have as yet cast any gloom in the Irish camp.

RADIO NEWS

Harry Wismer, ABC's director of sports, plays himself—in the new film, "Spirit of West Point," the Blanchard and Davis football vehicle released in New York City recently. Wismer, who last year described the play-by-play progress of Army football games for ABC listeners, appears in the film in his real life role, that of a football announcer.

Cast of NBC's Tuesday night "Amos 'n' Andy" show has welcomed the return of Jim Baskette, famed as "Gabby Gibson." He was forced by illness to leave the show in mid-season last year, but is now well on the road to complete recovery.

Frank Munn, one of radio's most famous singers, retired as a millionaire. If you want to hear a millionaire sing, tune in the Paul Whiteman club over ABC Wednesday night. One of the features will be Munn's recording of "My Angeleen," which he waxed back in 1927.

Harold Peary, star of NBC's "The Great Gildersleeve," was the head judge to select "Miss Television of Southern California" recently and, after the contest, took a bit part in a televised drama.

Battle Royal Booked For Armory Thursday

A five-man battle royal will start the weekly wrestling event at the Armory Thursday.

First man thrown in the five minute melee will be out for the evening. The next two thrown will wrestle in a 45-minute semi-final match, and the last two will come back to wrestle in the main match.

Sammy "Red Devil" Kohen of Patterson, N. J., Eddy Williams of Springfield, Mo., Billy Weidner of Columbus, Herb Parks of Centralia, Mo., and Gorilla Post of Argentina are slated to appear in the battle royal.

TROJAN BACK AILING

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7—The Southern California Trojans awaited a doctor's report today to determine whether they would have the services of speedy halfback Ten Tannehill Saturday against Ohio State at Columbus. Tannehill has missed the first two games with a side injury.

MARKET FOLLOWS MONDAY'S PATTERN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—Again it was a case of selective advances in today's stock market with many leaders still restrained by light offerings.

Prices were mildly uneven at a fairly active opening. Dealings then tapered and fractional irregularity was the rule near midday.

Resistant were American Woolen, Manati Sugar, Southern Railway, Baltimore and Ohio, U. S. Rubber, Oliver Corp., Caterpillar Tractor, American Smelting, Western Union, Republic Steel, General Electric and Johns-Manville.

Occasional losers included Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, Southern Pacific, N. Y. Central, Standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Co.

JOB TRAINING

the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944. Marion county is within the jurisdiction of the Veterans Administration sub-regional office in Mansfield. The regional office is located in Cleveland. A Veterans Administration training specialist is located in Marion to counsel with Marion county concerns and veterans about on-the-job training.

Under Public Law 16, disabled veterans of World War II are entitled to up to four years of on-the-job occupational training. This section of the GI Bill of Rights was drafted specifically to provide for the on-the-job training and institutional education of veterans, with an eye toward restoring employability lost because of service-incurred disability.

Week's Observance

The press, radio, churches and various other organizations are cooperating with local concerns and the Ohio State Employment Service in an effort to stimulate public interest in "Employ the Physically Handicapped" week. One of the outstanding features of the program is a countywide essay contest. The theme of the essays concerns the significance and aims of National "Employ the Physical Handicapped" week.

Hanns Eislers Surrender; Released on Heavy Bail

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7—Composer Hanns Eisler and his wife were at liberty on bond today after surrendering to immigration service officials on warrants calling for deportation proceedings.

Bail of $1,000 for Eisler, 54, and $500 for his wife, Louise, was deposited for their release pending a hearing. The date will be set later, said W. A. Carmichael, district immigration service head.

Warrants issued in Washington allege that the Eislers obtained visa to enter this country by misrepresentation and that Eisler swore he was not a member of the Communist party. At a recent house un-American affairs committee hearing, the musician acknowledged he once had been a party member in Germany.

U. S. synthetic rubber production rose from 23,000 tons in 1942 to 800,000 tons in 1945.

WHAT'S THE SCOOP, TWO-WAY? THINKING HOW FAR IT IS TO MIAMI AND THAT MARINE CORPS REUNION?
YEAH—BUT MOSTLY I'M THINKING OF THAT PIT FILLED WITH BROKEN AIRPLANES!
OUR AIRCRAFT IS ON THE EDGE OF THE GULLY, BUT IT IS GUARDED BY A MOB OF HERR SPLITZ'S NATIVES!
MAYBE WE COULD SALVAGE ENOUGH STUFF FROM THE WRECKS TO BUILD A RADIO TRANSMITTER AND PUT OUT A DISTRESS SIGNAL...
BIG JOB, TWO-WAY!
MAYBE—BUT IF OUR AIRCRAFT IS FLYABLE, WHAT'S TO PREVENT THAT SPLITZ GUY FROM FORCING STEVE CANYON OR BRECK TO HAUL HIM AND HIS DIAMONDS OUT OF HERE—THEN SHOOTING THE PILOT AND BAILING OUT OVER SOME POPULATED SECTION?

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

DICKY looked after Katharine's retreating figure with distinct approval in his eyes.

"Katrina always comes up with the right answer," he said. "Ninety-nine women out of a hundred, as close to Mary as she has been, would have stayed on to the finish of this. But not Katrina."

Mary Wouldn't Object

"Mary never would object, even in her inmost soul, to Katharine's being here, and Katharine knows it," I returned. "But Noel is something else again. She is almost a stranger to him and—"

"And she isn't carrying any flaming gasoline torch around for the lad anyhow," Dicky finished for me.

"No," I said a bit ruefully, "she isn't."

My husband looked curiously at me.

"Look here, Little Friend of All the World, in capitals," he said, "don't tell me you're uncorking any vials of sympathy for that lad."

"Yes, I am," I said defensively. "There is so much that is sterling and good in Noel, that it is a crime to have him smother it in false sentiment, even if he does believe the sentiment to be law and gospel."

An Amendment

"If the Chair please," Dicky said sonorously, "I'd like to make an amendment. For 'smother in false sentiment,' substitute 'smother in slush six feet deep.'"

"Dicky! Dicky!" I expostulated, with as much reproach as I could put in my laughter-filled voice, and the telephone shrilled an end to my protest.

Dicky answered it, but he beckoned me, even as he said: "Ah, there, Lina! Is our brat behaving? Glad to hear it. Here is Madge now."

I took the receiver from him, spoke Olina's name, and she spoke rapidly.

"Auntie Madge, we're having such a wonderful time with Faith," she said, "we want to ask you to let us keep her a little while longer. I know it must be near her bedtime, but—"

Not Worrying

"As it happens," I said, "I'm not worrying about that tonight. I shall be overjoyed to have Faith out of the way so that she won't be popping in unexpectedly for the next hour or so. If you don't catch my meaning, I am sure your mother or your stepfather can explain it to you."

"They already have," she said with a little laugh.

"And perhaps that is partly the reason for Faith's invitation," I suggested, with mischief in my voice.

"I am glad you said 'partly'," she answered, and it is only a small part. We do so love to have her. You should hear her! She is in rare form tonight. But Maman did think you might like to be undisturbed for a little while."

"Thank your mother for me," I said. "And when we are ready for Faith, may I call you?"

A Glorious Time

"Of course," she returned. "But please postpone the summons as long as possible. We are having such a glorious time."

There was sincerity in her voice, and there was a thrill of pride in the "Thank you for taking care of her," with which I hung up the receiver. For I could visualize the enjoyment the childless household was having in Faith's unpredictable and quaint observations upon whatever she had happened to hear or see during the day."

"She'll be a newspaper reporter," Dicky often says. "She never misses a trick."

And then my heart always constricts a bit, with the fear all mothers have of the unknown trials and dangers which their darlings must encounter when they go out from the shelter of home into the world.

Dicky's Comment

"I hope the canary tastes good," my husband said, as I turned from the telephone.

"Was I smiling?" I parried.

"No, you were grinning," he told me; "a grin a mile wide. I suppose they were expressing their admiration for our brat."

"She appears to be making a distinct hit," I said.

"She always does," Faith's fond father said smugly. "But," he grumbled, "I'd like her to be making her hits around the home hearth. It seems to me I haven't seen her in a week."

Saw Her Last Night

"You dined with her last night," I reminded him.

"But not tonight," he said obstinately. "However," he added resignedly, "we might as well get used to it. Faith isn't going to be one of those flowers that blush unseen. There'll be plenty of spectators to see her blushes—if she ever blushes, which I'm beginning to doubt."

"You ought to be jailed for slander," I said, and then we kept upa chatter about our unfailing topic, our darling, until a knock sounded on the bedroom door.

"Come in!" Dicky shouted, and when the door opened, and Noel and Mary appeared, I made the mental comment that I never had seen a more radiant pair.
